Fete Lindblad's 23 years on Antioch High Board

by GLORIA DAVIS

Those who donate much time to community service often find that their efforts are unappreciated. Not so with Robert Lindblad, who served on the Antioch High School Board of Education for 23 years and seven months, 14 years as board president, retiring at the end of the last school year.

Over 150 high school district electors, dignitaries, friends and relatives were on hand to laud Lindblad's service at a dinner held at the Antioch Golf Course on Saturday.

He and his wife Dorothy had their three daughters go through Antioch High School while he served on the board. At ACHS's graduation last June, Lindblad handed out his 5,000th diploma.

Among the salutes those present gave to Lindblad was an annual $500 scholarship fund established by the State Bank of Antioch in Lindblad's name, with the former board president choosing its recipient each year.

Ray Scarpelli of Raymond Chevrolet, where Lindblad has served as business manager for nine years, added another $500 to the scholarship fund.

Many letters of congratulatory resolution were given to Lindblad by William Bennet, U. S. Secretary of Education, Ill. State School Supt. Ted Sanders and State Sen. Adeline Geokaris, who also gave him a commemorative pen set.

The high school's teachers' association presented him with a weekend golfing vacation for he and his wife at Fox Hills in Mischicot, Wis. and the audio-visual department of the high school recorded the evening and gave Lindblad a tape of the event to put in his memory box.

From the high school he received a gold watch bearing the Sequoit emblem and from Dist. 34 came a brass school bell.

Lindblad is now serving out Bill Brook's term on the Regional Board of School Trustees until November of 1989, a seat to which he was appointed after his retirement from ACHS's Board.

Village cuts mayor's pay, ups trustees

by GLORIA DAVIS

At Mayor Ray Toft's suggestion, the Antioch Village Board approved cutting the mayor's salary in half so that the monies cut can go towards the salary of a village administrator at a future time.

The board has seriously been considering the hiring of a village administrator, an action that is expected to take place in the near future.

Reports are that Toft's prolonged absences from the village for business and vacation reasons prompted the mayor to suggest the cuts.

The trustees also approved raising the salaries of the three trustee seats now occupied by Rod White, Vern Barnstable and Ron Cunningham from $2,000 annually to $2,500.

Since salary raises or cuts can only be approved for people taking office after an election, the mayor's salary will remain at $11,000 next year and his salary as liquor commissioner will remain at $1,000.

Whoever is mayor after next year's election will get $5,500 and $500 annually for both jobs.

The trustees elected next year to fill the three open trustee seats will get the salary raise but the incumbent trustees' salary will remain at $2,000 till then.

The salary for the trustee seats now occupied by Robert Wilton, Mabel Lou Weber and Don Amundsen will remain at the $2,000 level until the election three years from now when their terms end.

The board also voted to change the village clerk's position from an elected one to an appointed one, effective in the next election.

Also at the last regular meeting on Monday, the board approved an increase in residential sewer plant expansion payments. Present residents have paid $100 each toward sewer plant expansion.

Those living in an average single family dwelling now pay $400 (a one time payment). In the future those living in a new single family dwelling will pay $800. The increase doubles the payments per person with the monies going towards any needed future sewer plant expansion.

In other business, the board: — notified Ed Jacobs, owner of the boarded up home on Main St. across from the high school encouraging him to either tear the house down or have it zoned business and sell it. This was recommended by the plan commission since it is not only an eyesore but also poses a health hazard because it has often been broken into by kids.

— set June 12, from 5 to 7 p.m., aside for the Cub Scouts Soap Box Derby which will take place on the hill on Hillside Ave.

New tax law seen as unfair

Twelfth Dist. Congressman Philip M. Crane (R-Mt. Prospect) took the occasion of the deadline for filing 1987 U.S. income tax returns last week to again blast the 1986 tax law, which he says has resulted in higher taxes for many Americans.

"I argued and voted against the tax act in its final form in 1986 and there is no reason today to change my mind that it should never have been enacted," Congressman Crane declared.

"The tax law was supposed to restore simplicity and fairness to the tax code, which it certainly has not done—as well as to encourage economic growth, another aim that was not met.

"We did one fine thing," he went on,

"in removing six million low income Americans from the tax rolls. But then we revised and eliminated deductions, including IRAs, which in the long run hurt many more millions of taxpayers.

"As Americans look at their federal taxes on 1987 income, it should be apparent that the answer to a fair tax for everyone is my legislation which would establish a 10 percent flat rate income tax. No taxes would be paid on Social Security benefits or any retirement income if that income was already taxed once before," Crane said.

He would increase the personal exemption, with an exemption of $10,000 per wage earner. No exemption would be provided for dependents.

Sexual assault group installs

Six new members and three returning members were elected to the board of directors of the Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault (LaCASA) at its recent annual meeting.

New members include Claudia Calhoun, NTC, Great Lakes; Rev. Vickie Johanson, chaplain, RTC, Great Lakes; Susan McKnight, vice president, On Tap Premium Quality Waters, Wheeling; Rev. Sylvia Pleas, associate pastor, First United Methodist Church, Waukegan; Sheila Rosenquist, Lake County Grading, Libertyville; and Sharon Weinstein, executive director, Alternative Care Today, Deerfield.

Returning for a second three-year term are Teresa Hall Bartels, Marketing Coordinator, Manpower Temporary Services, Mundelein; Tracy Raasch, coordinator of Victim Services, Waukegan Police Dept.; and Yolanda Torrez, attorney at law, Waukegan.

Officers were also installed at the annual meeting. They include President, Teresa Hall Bartels; Vice President of Finance and Administration, Kathy Anderson, owner of Anderson Financial Services, Grayslake; Vice President of Resource Development, Sheila Rosenquist; Vice President of Human Resources, Peggy Taylor.

How to put green in dull lawn

Spring is here! There have been some record warm days, the grass is green, spring bulbs are in bloom, and trees are leafing out.

For those of us who enjoy the out-of-doors, it is time to move gardening activities outside, says the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.

Begin by picking up debris that accumulated over winter and stuff that has blown in on spring winds.

As soon as it is dry enough, rake the lawn. This will stand up the matted grass and remove old leaves and thatch. This lets the soil breathe and warm up.

Then mow at about an inch or so. Immediately set the mower up to the regular two and one-half to three-inch height.

If the mower wasn't serviced last fall, now is a good time to do it. Change the oil, replace the spark plug, and sharpen the blade, if needed.

Apply some fertilizer if none was applied late last fall, and incorporate pre-emergent herbicide or crabgrass preventer if crabgrass or other annual lawn weeds were a problem last year.

Repair damaged or thin areas in the lawn by removing the dead grass along with any thatch, scratching up a shallow seed bed and sowing a blend of three to five Kentucky bluegrass varieties and 25 percent perennial ryegrass. Rake the seed in gently and mulch with a thin layer of straw. Two or three inches will provide about 50 percent shade. The spring rains and warmth will cause germination of the seed in a few weeks, and by early summer the areas should be completely recovered.

Nice lawns are the result of a lot of thought and care. Starting early gets your lawn in good shape before some of the common problems can start.

Hospital offers mammograms

During the months of April and May and in conjunction with the American Cancer Society's Cancer Control Month, St. Therese Medical Center is offering mammograms.

A mammogram is a low-dose x-ray that helps physicians detect breast cancer before there is a lump, when the cure rate is near 100 percent.

For more information or to schedule an appointment, call the St. Therese Radiology Dept. at (312) 260-2690, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

$500,000 damage

Lake County Sheriff's Dept. officer measures the distance of the damage that was caused when a truck failed to yield to a two-engine locomotive. The accident occurred Monday at about 3:40 p.m. Truck driver Richard Beckel of Woodstock and train engineer Ron Calloway of Fond du Lac, Wis. are in good condition at Condell Hospital.

Many corporations join in boom for fitness, Lake County runs

Many corporations are recognizing the benefits of regular exercise and are encouraging employees to become physically fit. Such an investment may pay off in lower health insurance premiums, more energetic workers and complete loyalty. One of the most popular activities associated with corporate health and wellness programs is a running team.

The cost of this encouragement ranges from running paths on company grounds to corporate sponsored sports activities like the First Midwest Bank Team Competition of the Lake County Marathon set for April 24.

Teams can compete in the media, corporate, or open divisions and may choose the marathon relay or half-marathon. Marathon relay teams consist of five people, four running a leg of five miles and fifth running competing in a 10K. A half-marathon team is comprised of four people with the team score determined by age and sex handicaps. Awards are given to the top three teams in each division. Proceeds benefit the Lake County Special Olympics program.

Support of these teams come in varying forms. In the case of Allstate's "Trailblazers", uniforms and partially subsidized. Plans are also in process for a running path and baseball diamonds on its Northbrook campus.

"Within the past five years, we've had an increase in participation. Activities evolve around the Corporate Fitness Center and include weightlifting, swimming, jogging and walking," Donna Maletich, Kraft's team captain.

Bill Krause, team captain for Illinois Tool Works has also noticed an increased interest in fitness and running. ITW also sponsors other sports including bowling, softball and basketball.

ITW's corporate running program began about five years ago when several runners expressed an interest in forming a club. Since then the company has paid for uniforms and race entry fees. Approximately 30 ITW employees participated in the Lake County races last year and ITW finished second in the First Midwest Bank Marathon Relays corporate division.

Lake County races offer something for everyone; the Lake County Marathon, the HealthCare Half-Marathon; the Bank of Waukegan 10K and the Lake Forest Hospital Walk. For more information, call the Lake County Marathon at (312) 831-9374.

Illinois among states without insurance law

Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgar renewed his effort to have Illinois join 39 other states that require drivers to carry liability insurance.

"I think it is time for Illinois to catch up with the rest of the nation. Poll after poll has shown the people of our state overwhelmingly favor a mandatory insurance law, and it is only fair that all motorists be required to have coverage," Edgar said.

The secretary of state, who has supported mandatory insurance legislation since 1982, said his newest proposal features a more effective enforcement approach that does not tap the pockets of law-abiding taxpayers.

Only 11 other states do not have mandatory insurance laws, and Florida is the only other populous state without one.

In Illinois, two million of the seven million registered cars and pickup trucks are not covered by insurance. The Dept. of Insurance reports 26 percent of passenger cars are uninsured. The Dept. of Transportation confirms that more than 60,000 uninsured drivers are involved in accidents each year.

The mandatory insurance legislation introduced this year focuses on suspension of vehicle registrations instead of driver's licenses.

"Unlike mandatory insurance bills in other years, a seat belt law can be administered by a single department in my office," Edgar said. "That means less red tape and lower administrative costs. Combined with fees for license reinstatements, it also means the program will pay for itself," Edgar said.

The measure calls for motorists to carry insurance cards that must be displayed to police officers if requested. In addition, the secretary of state's office would make random checks of motor vehicle owners. And the office also would be in position to crack down especially on uninsured motorists who are involved in accidents regardless of whether they are at fault.

A driver ticketed for driving uninsured and found guilty would be fined a minimum of $500 and would have his registration suspended. If the motorist is driving a vehicle while its registration is suspended for non-insurance, he or she would be fined at least $1,000.

All violators, whether caught by police or checks by the secretary of state's office, would be subject to suspension of their vehicle registrations. Proof of insurance plus reinstatement fees would be required before the vehicle could be legally driven.

A first offender would have to wait two months before seeking reinstatement by paying a $50 fee. A multiple offender would have to wait four months before seeking reinstatement by paying a $100 fee.

Effective date would be Jan. 1, 1990, to permit the public to become educated about the law, and afford ample preparation time to insurance companies, the secretary of state's office and law enforcement officials.

A sunset clause would have the law expire four years after its enactment unless the General Assembly takes action to extend it. That responds to arguments from insurance companies that it would be extremely difficult to get rid of the law.

THE YOUNG DIABETIC

Minor foot cuts and scrapes, common in childhood, often require special attention in the case of juvenile diabetics. The danger lies in infections.

Diabetic children should always wear shoes, boots or other footwear to protect the feet. Embedded splinters or puncture wounds call for prompt professional treatment.

Infections in young feet also can result from blisters or ingrown toenails. A podiatrist may drain the infected area, prescribe an antibiotic and specify home care to help the healing. Sometimes surgery is needed to prevent a nail from becoming ingrown again.

Athlete's foot and other skin rashes, if not treated, may lead to secondary infections more difficult to treat. Any foot infection in juvenile diabetics should get prompt professional care.

Emmons plans on having g-day mate

Bruce Cowled, Consul from the Australian Consulate in Chicago, will be the honored guest at Emmons School in Antioch on Friday, April 22, when the students display projects about Australia during a Culture Day.

Culture Day gives students in grades kindergarten through eighth an opportunity to study about a country and to share material learned with other classes and with parents. Each class has a particular focus (customs, geography, history, plants, animals, government, literature, or language).

During the Culture Day assembly, each class will display their projects. Consul Cowled will bring Australian greetings to the students.

The band will play "Waltzing Matilda", and students will sing some Australian songs. Afterwards, the classes will sample typical Australian food in a "Taste of Australia" presentation.

Catholic Charities seeks meal volunteers

Currently, approximately 30 senior citizens residing within the village of Antioch and the Twp. of Antioch wait patiently every day for that ring or knock at their door by a Home-Delivered Meals volunteer who is delivering them a well-balanced, hot meal and a friendly smile.

Not only does the volunteer deliver the meal, but also checks on the seniors' well being.

Participants in the program range in age from 60 to 90 plus years, and for a variety of reasons depend on the meal since, in many cases, it is their only source of nutrition.

Many of the participants are either bedridden, wheel chair bound, or legally blind and therefore, unable to shop and prepare their own meals.

Many of the daily tasks that most people take for granted when preparing a meal, such as using a can opener, are totally impossible for many seniors due to advanced stages of arthritis.

Both the Village and Twp. of Antioch have been of great assistance to the Home-Delivered Meals Program under the auspices of Catholic Charities of Lake County.

The village provides support in the form of space and maintenance of the Antioch Senior Center, and the township lends fiscal assistance for delivery of meals to clients residing in remote areas of the township.

Presently, at least 20 additional volunteers are needed in the Antioch area. These drivers will be used within the village proper and within the township.

Normally, it takes only 45 minutes to one hour of a volunteer's time to deliver his or her assigned route. Meals are delivered Monday through Friday during the hours of 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. The volunteer may select the time and day most convenient for them.

According to Bobbie Jones, program coordinator with Catholic Charities, "We try to be as flexible as possible in working with our volunteers. The program does not just happen. We must pull all our assets together. This includes dollars and community support. Working together is the basis for a sound program."

Persons interested in volunteering for this extremely important community project are encouraged to contact Jones, Home-Delivered Meal Coordinator at (312) 249-3500, or Paul Howard, Antioch Senior Center coordinator at (312) 395-7120.

The Home-Delivered Meals Program is funded in part by Region II Area Agency on Aging, United Way of Lake County and Catholic Charities.

A special "thank you" is extended to the present Home-Delivered Meals volunteers in the Antioch area. The volunteers have been patient and understanding during a period of program growth.

The growth of the program is due to the increased number of seniors being maintained in their homes versus being placed in some form of care facility.

AARP plans bag lunch

The Antioch Area Chapter 387 of the American Association of Retired People (AARP) with members in southeastern Wisconsin as well as Illinois, will meet on Tuesday, April 26 at the Antioch Senior Center located at 817 N. Holbek Dr.

President Charles Youlden will open the business meeting at 10:30 a.m. after the flags have been posted by flag-bearers Fannie and Eddie Okoniewski.

Dessert and coffee is served after the "Brown Bag" luncheon for a charge of 50 cents.

Ruth Rynders, program chairperson, will present Michael Brickley to speak. He is representing the Citizens Utility Board.

Elect Jordan top woman

The members of St. Peter Council of Catholic Women selected Cecilia Jordan as "Woman of the Year" at their last meeting. She will be honored at the Vicariate 1 luncheon at Marriot's Lincolnshire on May 19.

She is the past president of the Council of Catholic Women at St. Peter's. Since she retired from "Ma Bell" she has devoted all her time to her family and her church.

She has been very active in many aspects such as co-chairing the Christmas Bazaar and the Nursing Home Christmas party. She has been busily working at the Ecumenical lunches and services at the various churches in the area, including the luncheon at St. Peter and the Good Friday Ecumenical Service.

She is very dedicated to her church and is always ready and willing to participate in any capacity.

Friends salute Lindblad

Over 150 friends, co-workers, relatives and school elected Linda Lindblad, who is with his wife Dorothy, both right, at dinner celebrating her graduation from Antioch High School. Course on Saturday. Honor was for being on Antioch Education for 23 years.

Richmond eyes district head

The Ill. Assn. of School Boards has been given the job of searching for candidates for a new superintendent for Richmond Consolidated Grade School Dist. 13.

The present superintendent, Dr. Bob Leli, who has been in Richmond for six years, has taken a job advancement at Cass School Dist. 63 in DuPage County.

Deadline for applications for superintendent to be in to the IASB is May 20. The IASB feels that they should have narrowed down the candidate list to just a few names by July 1.

It will then be up to the Board of Education of Richmond Consolidated Grade School Dist. 13 to choose a new superintendent to be in place by the time that school starts next fall. The board will make their choice from the narrowed-down list given them by the IASB.

Under Leli's administration, the first successful negotiation of the district's first formal contract between the teachers and the board took place.

Leli says that he is proud of the increase in communications between the school board, the parents, the school's staff and the administration, as well as the successful bid for a tax rate increase which passed in referendum form four years ago.

Library has plan for great library week

Nippersink Dist. Library has exciting plans for National Library Week, April 18 to 23. It will begin its celebration by serving coffee, juice, and cookies on Monday and Tuesday to all who visit the library.

It has also declared the week Amnesty Week. Anyone returning an overdue book during the week will not be charged a fine. Anyone who asks to have his fine record checked will have his fine reduced by 50 percent. Library are encouraged to take advantage of this week in order to also clear the Grade school children are invited to "Saturday at the Movies" on April 23. At 2 p.m. they will see a double feature movie program that will last about one-and-one-half hours. Popcorn will be served.

"Bed Time Story Hour," Monday night at 7 p.m. and Tuesday and Wednesday story hours will celebrate the week with teddy bears. The theme of the programs will center around teddy bears, and the preschoolers will bring their own teddy bears to the library for story time.

Lutheran Girl Pioneers get ready for convention

Caravan council members and leaders from Dist. II, the Prairie Bonnets with churches from Antioch and Zion, Ill. also participating, are busy with final preparations for the National Biennial Convention of Lutheran Girl Pioneers, Inc. being held at J.I. Case High School, Racine, Wisc. on April 23.

The theme "Hands and Hearts Serving Jesus" illustrates a goal to use hands and hearts just as "He" unselfishly applied His Heart and Hands for redemption.

In addition to a general business meeting, those attending have the opportunity to participate in various workshops and Christian fellowship.

Plans include workshops on Pioneer awareness, crafts, nature, tying knots, sewing, campfire singing, materials for the hearing impaired and rap sessions on each of the requirement levels.

Invitations have been mailed to all chartered caravans. Any member of a WELS church or any church in doctrinal fellowship with that synod is welcome to join.

Inquiries can be sent to Lutheran Girl Pioneers, Inc., 1611 Caledonia St., LaCrosse, Wisc. 54603, (608) 781-5232.

Letter To The Editor

Antioch's needs

Editor:

I would like to respond to the April 8 letter from Mrs. Conwell, which appeared in the Antioch News Reporter.

I agree that Antioch should open its doors to a larger shopping center. Maybe some thought should be given to turning downtown Antioch into more of a tourist town-offering antique shops, art galleries, photo shops, candy and ice cream palors, and various specialty shops.

The vacant lands around the town proper could be developed with shopping and more year-round recreation facilities.

The point about the need for an additional movie theater is well taken, especially after the Antioch theater recently held a particular movie over for about six weeks.

Mainly, I would like to address the need of an indoor roller-ice rink in Antioch. A drive through and near the village will verify how Antioch has grown and is still growing.

The enormous involvement in the Lindenhurst Iceless Hockey and soccer programs-in the Antioch Little League and football etc. seems to indicate there would be ample participation.

Let's offer alternatives to our children who may form dependency habits out of boredom. Involvement in roller skating and or ice skating may at least reduce the number of kids who turn to drugs or alcohol in their quest for entertainment.

Consider the possibility that a large indoor arena can be utilized in many ways. We vacation in Wisconsin. A town with a much smaller population than Antioch's has a huge ice arena and it is used for many functions.

For example: the months of November through March it could be used for figure skating and ice hockey. The months of April through October it could be used for roller skating, boat shows, RV shows, home antique shows, auction, dances, circus shows, beauty pageants, 4-H programs, plays, classic auto shows etc.

Roller skating could be offered on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays, leaving Fridays to Mondays to set up, hold and clean up after a function or possibly two weeks a month could be devoted to skating and two weeks to outside activities.

The complex in Wisconsin has a concession area. The monies from a yearly huge three-day auction, concession stand, parental fees and rental fees, help support the building and sport programs.

I think Antioch should re-think its stand on how to keep local dollars in our town. Antioch needs one more movie theater and should offer more year round recreation to its youngsters.

In fact, many adults may enjoy an indoor facility to roller skate and ice skate.

If you agree with Mrs. Conwell's letter and mine, contact the town's officials with your suggestions.

School concert

The spring concert of Grass Lake Grade School in which all pupils of the school will participate, is set for 7 p.m., on April 27. The concert is called "Celebration of Music," and admission is free.

Engagement

Maplethorpe-Johnson

Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Tod) Maplethorpe of Antioch have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Ellen, to David Robert Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of DeKalb.

The ceremony will be performed on June 25 at First United Methodist Church, Dixon, by the Reverend Jay D. Carr.

The bride-to-be is a 1980 graduate of Antioch Community High School and also a graduate of Illinois State University with degrees in music education and elementary education. She is employed by Dixon Public Schools as the elementary and junior high school band director.

David is a graduate of DeKalb High School and Northern Illinois University. He is an industrial engineer for the Henry Pratt Company in Dixon.

The couple plans to make their home in Dixon.

Something for everyone coming up in Antioch

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312)395-6081

There's a little bit of something for everyone in Antioch this next week—arts and crafts, drama, music, sports and plain old nostalgia.

The PM&L Theatre will perform "A Diary of Anne Frank" for only two more evenings. Curtain time is 8 p.m., Friday, April 22 and Saturday, April 23.

"The audience has thoroughly enjoyed the show; even though it is a serious subject, it has many light moments," says Aileen Biel, PM&L spokesperson. "The cast

Cast members include: Bob Anderson, Mr. Frank; Wanda Schaefer, is outstanding, even to the cat named Sam." Sam is Biel's cat.

News & Notes

Miep; Mickey Eckmann Mandel, Mrs. VanDaan; Gerry Mandel, Mr. VanDaan; Sam Barnes, Peter VanDaan; Colleen Jordan, Mrs. Frank; Patty Workman, Margot Frank; Dawn Flood, Anne Frank; Bill Finley, Mr. Kraler; and Rick Lawrence, Mr. Dussel.

Flood and Barnes are making their debut with PM&L in this show, both being very active in drama at Antioch High School. It's a good bet that we'll see much of them in future productions!

Before you take in the show, you might want to make a day of it and stop off at the Antioch Scout House, 741 Main St., and take a look at the wonderful hand-crafted items the Log Cabin Crafters have assembled for their Spring Craft Boutique. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday, April 22 and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, April 23.

It's getting closer to summer every day now, and the Antioch Swim Team is getting ready to dive right into their 1988 season. Don't forget registration will be held from 9 a.m. until noon Saturdays, April 23 and 30 at W.C. Petty School. The season tentatively will run from the second week of June through July, with meets on Tuesday and Thursday. For more information call (312)395-5210 or (312)395-4886.

Is music your bag? The Antioch Lower Grade Bands, under the direction of Mrs. Linda Johnson, will perform in concert at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 27, at W.C. Petty School. Admission is free, but seating is limited. Come early for a good seat. You'll be amazed at what these kids can do!

For more drama enjoyment, you'll be sure glad you didn't miss the Antioch High School Drama Club presentation of "The Apple Tree" on Thursday, April 28, running through Saturday, April 30. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m., and tickets are available at the door.

Want to get in on the action? How about a "Back to the Fifties" romp? The Emmons PTO will present a dinner and dance Saturday, April 30, at the Antioch VFW Hall, North Ave. There will be lip sync, hula hoop and twist contests—plus more. Music will be provided by the Record Party. Cocktails start at 6:30 p.m., dinner at 7:15 p.m., and the dance at 8:30 p.m. Donation for the dinner and dance is $12; dance alone is $5. For reservations, call (312)395-9045. Be sure to wear an appropriate '50s outfit!!

See all the activities going on right under your nose in our town? The best part is there's no parking fees!

Nippersink Dist. Library announces the winners of the bicycle safety poster contest. Posters done by Colin Anderson of Richmond and Jaime Singer of Spring Grove have been chosen to be sent to Northern Illinois Library System for judging.

The system will judge posters sent in from libraries throughout the system and send first place winners to Secretary of State Librarian Jim Edgar's office for statewide judging.

Dist. 34 electors call for more information

There is still a large group of Dist. 34 electors, who held another meeting last week, who are concerned that there still remains a large number of School Dist. 34 residents who are not fully informed, nor even aware of what's going on regarding the reorganization of their schools.

It is their intention as a group to notify the public that a decision will be made at the next school board meeting regarding the future of Oakland, W.C. Petty and Antioch Lower Grade Schools.

This meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 26, at 8 p.m. at Petty Elementary School. It is open to the public.

They ask that people show concern by attending this meeting!

As a group, they have adopted the position that the district maintain the current K-5 neighborhood schools with the necessary minor changes to alleviate overcrowding problems for the 1988-89 school year.

During this time, they ask that the district closely monitor enrollment and residential growth patterns.

They also ask that the district conduct thorough, in-depth study of each organizational proposal presented thus far, as well as other possible alternatives that may surface.

"This feasibility study should provide a long-range, positive plan to meet the future needs of the students in our schools," said a representative. Around 40 people attended the meeting, of which the following 30 people signed the "concerned" request: Linda Halpin, Peggy Kiedinge, Betty Blank,

Filip gets jump badge

An Antioch serviceman is in the news this week. Pvt. Harry A. Filip, son of Gail and Victor Filip, Antioch, has received the parachutist badge upon completion of the three-week airborne course at the U. S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga. He is a 1982 grauate of Antioch Community High School.

Women set to dine at Millie's

The Closing Luncheon of the Antioch Women's Club will be held on May 2 at Millie's Pancake House in Delavan, Wis.

Cocktails will be served at 11 a.m., luncheon at noon.

The chairwoman of the hostess committee is Irene Jachimowski.

Chamber to meet

The membership meeting of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry will be held from 6 to 8 p.m., on Wednesday, April 27, at the First National Bank of Antioch. The speaker will be Michael Zens, a special agent of the treasury service, who will speak on the detection and investigation of counterfeit currency.

Ingleside family loses all in fire; neighbors help

Three small Ingleside children gave up their $1 weekly allowance as neighbors rushed to help the Warren Nielsen family, who lost everything in a home fire last weekend. The small family dog perished in the fire.

The youngsters - Jackie, John and Sosnowski, ages 6, 5 and 3 - contributed to a funds provided by residents of Hilldale Manor Subdivision. Others also provided clothing, including designer garments, for the parents and two sons who live at home.

The father, Warren Nielsen, 42, is recovering from burns on his feet and back suffered before he got out of the house. His wife, Pam, 40, was treated for smoke inhalation.

Two sons, 15-year-old Kurt and 17-year-old Michael, were taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center for general observation. All were released.

The Nielsens are looking for a rental house in Fox Lake so the boys can remain in Grant High School district. They are staying temporarily with relatives in Fox Lake.

Neighbors in the Hilldale Manor Subdivision Improvement Association voted to change the park fund into a park and disaster fund, then gave $500 to help the Nielsens. Individual neighbors contributed at least another $500 directly to the family.

Others wishing to help the Nielsens can contact the Hilldale Manor Sub. by calling 598-9898 or writing to the association at P.O. Box 489, Fox Lake, Ill 60020. Checks should be made out directly to Warren and Pam Nielsen.

Damage to the bi-level house is estimated at $100,000 by Chief Stuart Hoehne of the Fox Lake Fire Protection District. He said it was an accidental fire that started in the basement utility room, spread to the upper floor, then out the roof.

Hoehne said the call came in at 1:47 a.m. The four occupants were already out and the house was pretty much involved with the fire when they arrived. Firemen were on the scene more than three hours before completely extinguishing the flames.

Mutual aid on the scene was provided by the Spring Grove, Lake Villa and Round Lake fire departments. Spring Grove also was on station duty in case another call came in.

The house at 35238 Sheridan Dr. had recently been remodeled.

program needs drivers

Home Delivered Meals Programs of Catholic Charities in Lake County is in need of additional volunteers to deliver meals in Antioch Township, daily; Gurnee, third week of the month; North Chicago, third week of the month; Waukegan, third and fourth week of the month; and Wildwood, third week of the month.

The Meals Program is designed for home-bound seniors, who by no other means would be able to get a well-balanced meal during the day, if, not by a volunteer.

Meals are delivered Monday through Friday between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. A route usually takes only 45 minutes to an hour. A volunteer may select the times and days most convenient for them.

Volunteers are also needed to become substitute drivers in other area, especially North Chicago and Round Lake.

The program is partially funded through Region II Area Agency on Aging, United Way of Lake County, Catholic Charities and community contributions.

Prospective volunteers may contact Bobbie Jones, Home Delivered Meals Coordinator at (312) 249-3500.

Shriners offer free exams

Chain 'O' Lakes Shrine suggests parents bring their child to the clinic or the Shriner's hospital committee and Doctors on Duty will conduct a free screening clinic for children, ages two months to 18 years, at 2 East Rollins Road, Round Lake Beach, Wednesday, April 27, 4 to 7 p.m.

Children will be checked for bone problems, cerebral palsy, cleft lip and palate, spine problems, and others.

If accepted treatment is free. If parents have concerns, the organization

Blood drive

There will be a blood drive, Friday, April 22, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the library of the Round Lake Community High School, 800 High School Dr., Round Lake.

Walk-ins are accepted anytime during the day.

A spokesperson said, "One person can save as many as 6 lives. Please go the distance and give blood."

Tax 'shopping list' complete

It's beginning to look more and more like 1989 being a watershed year for taxation in Illinois. That can mean only one thing. The lid will be off next year.

Legislative leaders pretty well have the taxation "shopping list" in mind. But because of the election this fall, the tax hike is highly doubtful until next year. By then, responsible leaders hope to adopt new spending controls and bring about some semblance of reform in the rotten, bureaucratically financed Chicago school system. Here's how the taxation menu looks:

1. $550 million for overall education.

2. $300 million for Chicago schools.

3. $200 million for welfare.

4. Gasoline tax increase for highways.

5. Sales tax increase in collar counties for RTA.

All of this adds up to a whopping $1.5 billion. This translates into nearly doubling the state income tax, according to the Illinois Chamber of Commerce. Gov. James Thompson and staff refer to 1989 tax increase needs as "modest."

This might be a good time to get your name on the reservation list for the first rocket trip to the moon.

Cool Fremont heads sought

Things are bad at Fremont Consolidated School, a district touching such diverse points as Mundelein, Lake Zurich and Grayslake. And they're getting worse. There is bitterness spilling all over the once rural district that is sinking under the problems imposed by unplanned and unprepared for urban growth and development.

Just about everything imaginable that could beset a school has engulfed Fremont. A once dwindling enrollment has turned around with new students coming from rapidly growing subdivisions. Deficits are piling up. The faculty and administration are at each other's throats with the teachers' union charging the board of education with anti-labor tactics. Parents are bewildered by problems plaguing the district and prospects of increased taxes. Supt. Dennis Dunton is an administrator under siege, having lost confidence of both parents and staff. Teachers are working without a contract. A tax increase referendum designed to ease financial pressures was defeated at the recent primary election 61% to 39%. Cuts in services are being planned. Now an unfair labor practice suit will be filed against the school board by the Fremont Education Assn. with legal costs expected between $50,000 and $100,000.

Fremont's problems have taken on the appearance of a three ring circus. Teachers were incensed last fall when an administrator dressed as a scab for Halloween. FEA members feel the teaching staff has been divided by board strategies into pro and con union factions.

Clearly things are out of hand. Concerned parents are at a loss as where to turn. It has been suggested that the board must adopt a policy of receiving cash donations from developers—impact fees—if the school ever is to right itself financially. Citizens cannot exercise ballot power until school elections next year. An attempt at mediation in the contract dispute failed.

The Middle East, Third World mentality must be set aside. The situation calls for outside leadership to step in. Perhaps Regional School Supt. Sybil Yastrow could appoint a blue ribbon panel to study the Fremont mess and make recommendations. As a starter, leaders on both sides should jointly invite a team of retired school superintendents with whom they can counsel.

There has to be a way out of the impasse. Are there any cool heads left in the Fremont School District?

Make ballot selection work

A ringing rebuke from an Illinois Senate committee is being regarded as a major setback to the cause for merit selection of judges. We're not shedding any tears and either is a majority of voters who have been following efforts over the years to supplant the present system of direct election of the judiciary.

Members of the Senate, in our opinion, correctly have assessed the mood of the people. They like being a part of the judicial selection process. John Q. Public in Illinois isn't ready to abdicate his power of the ballot.

Merit selection of judges in Illinois for years has been sought by a combination of forces including judges themselves, lawyers, Chicago media leaders, liberals and governmental tinkers. Now that political leaders have spoken, these same forces could well be involved in a process to bring forward interested and qualified candidates for the bench. That might be a novel experience. Let's make the present system work instead of revising it.

If the pro-merit selection forces choose to sulk, it wouldn't be surprising to hear them complain that ballot selection of judges is un-American.

League opposing Con-Con

Members of the League of Women Voters of Illinois are to be commended for their efforts of studying a proposal to call for a state constitutional convention in the November election and taking a stand at an early date in opposition to the proposition.

An overwhelming number of League members—96 percent—studying the plan to revise the 1970 constitution urged defeat of the referendum question.

Reasons cited for opposing this year's convention call included satisfaction with the present amendment procedure and fear that important gains achieved in 1970 could be lost if the entire constitution were exposed to revision. Members expressed concern that the estimated cost would be an unnecessary drain upon limited state revenues especially at a time when education and human services are seriously under funded. They also believe that the constitution, substantially rewritten less than twenty years ago, is functioning well and does not require a complete overhaul at this time.

The amendment procedure adopted in 1970 has allowed the placement of nine different constitutional proposals on the ballot, of which four have been approved by the voters.

The 1970 constitution provides that the question of calling a convention shall be placed on the ballot automatically every 20 years. A majority of those voting in the general election or three-fifths of those voting on the question are needed to approve the convention call.

Bomb making by the numbers bothers chief

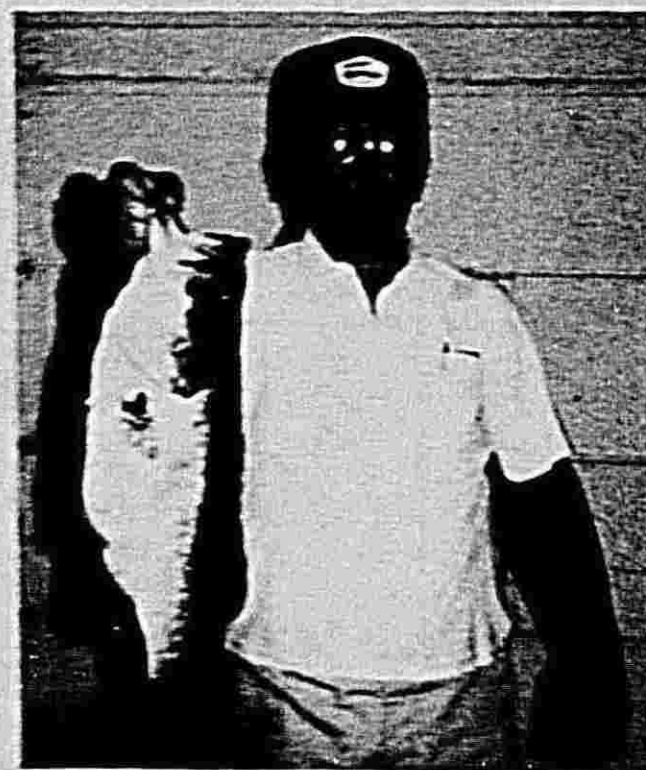

by BILL SCHROEDER

Police Chief Wally Frasier of Mundelein spends almost as much time with media types as does with lawbreakers. That's the nature of police work in a rapidly growing town with a press corps almost the size of that assigned to a good many state capitals.

Frasier is upset about reporters who get overly specific. Not that he's against reporting police news. On the contrary, Chief Frasier does a first-rate job keeping the press abreast of law enforcement activities in Mundelein, maintaining daily press briefings and weekly interviews. What has Frasier frazzled is what he considers "aid and comfort to the enemy" in reporting in detail how pipe bombs are made in connection with three recent bomb discoveries in Mundelein.

"I don't think all that detail is essential information," Chief Frasier said some of the news accounts were specific enough to enable a crackpot to assemble a bomb.

Chief Frasier was frustrated over a problem that perplexes editors all the time with sensitive police stories: when does certain information run contrary to public safety? Editors agonized over the same problem two decades ago when steps needed in manufacturing an atomic bomb hit the public prints as news. The fact of the matter then as now is that facts about bomb making are available in the local library and libraries all across the land. If anti-social types want to build a bomb they don't have to wait until some news writer waxes in some detail. Just go to the closest library.

Jack Fiore and bass

FISH STORY—Jack Fiore came back from a winter in Florida with a fish story, of course.

Fiore, one of Lake County's premier anglers, shook his head. "I don't know. Florida doesn't seem to be what it used to. I don't know if I want to spend winters there anymore. It's too nice around here," exclaimed the retired restaurateur and renowned bass hunter.

Jack whipped out a snapshot of a lunker-size black bass taken from Lake Okeechobee in central Florida over the winter, just to prove that he hasn't lost his touch: 11 pounds, 2 ounces; nine inch black plastic worm. Jack's beauty is exactly half the size of the world record black bass established in Georgia in 1932. With the statistics taken care of, Fiore described his latest campaign to extend the joys of fishing to more people—getting rid of silly local rules prohibiting use of electric motors.

Fiore is going to start where he spends eight months of the year, Highland Lake. "Handicapped persons and senior citizens need electric motors to get around. They can't row a boat. Electric motors are so safe you can stick a finger in the propeller and not get hurt. They don't make noise or pollute. How can anyone be against an electric motor?" he inquired with a grin.

Jack knows practically every body of water in Lake County like the back of his hand. He's mapped a number of them for prime fishing spots. If you think electric motors are an invention of the devil, be prepared for a challenge from Jack Fiore. He's on the war path.

GOOD HANDS—The Lake County Sheriff's Water Patrol will be in good hands this year with the naming of two veterans to supervise safety on the inland lakes and Lake Michigan.

Letters To The Editor

'Butchering' nature

Editor:

For the sake of the earth, help us stop letting developers, whose only purpose in buying and building is the pursuit of those more-the-better-holy-dollars.

They rip out every tree in the name of efficiency, or at best, cut them down without any valid reason. If these individuals want to lay waste to the land, they should at least have the decency to buy land without a tree on it. They deserve no more. And don't let anyone of them say "but we will put trees back, we'll landscape." They will plant young that will not be the native species the animals and birds are used to and call home. Old growth cannot be replaced.

Towns, cities, counties and states must take it upon themselves as responsible public agencies to guard the quality of life for everyone—not just those few looking to profit. Top soil must not be striped away, for that changes the nature of the ground and causes erosion. It is unconscionable to indiscriminately cut down trees for that changes the ecosystem. And to fell a grove of trees would be a disaster future generations should not have to live with. If builder-developers are not willing to tread lightly when planning their developments, then we should urge our local and state governments to pass a regulation regarding the destroying of trees. Each mature tree increases the value of the property by $3,000. The trees help prevent flooding, erosion, reduces temperatures, regulates rainfall and helps purify our air. Let us not have a massacre like the one at Red Top-Libertyville.

We all want to see Wauconda grow and prosper, but not at the hands of butchers. The development needs to grow out of a sense of community responsibility, ensuring that the development will truly enhance our lives with a planned community enveloping nature's most precious gifts.

No person should imagine for a minute that he or she "owns" any part of this earth. How ludicrous to think that our infinitesimally short tenure gives us the right to "do what we please" to destroy the land we paid dollars for. We are all just passing through. It is, therefore, our duty to hold this land, its plants and animals, great and small in a thinking caring trust. If we do our job right, this land will be fit and ready for the generations to come. If we don't, this land will all be a wasteland—not fit for any habitation.

Phyllis Nicolopoulos
Wauconda

Sloppy delivery

Editor:

Regarding Mr. Sherwood's letter on the U.S. Mail.

I don't know about you, but I can remember when my mailman delivered, "The Advertiser". It was brought up to my house and placed in the mailbox along with the rest of my mail.

Today, someone drives down the street throwing it out of their car window. If it lands on my sidewalk, fine. If it lands on my lawn in a pouring down rain or in a ditch full of water, well better luck next week. The same holds true with the other advertising that is delivered in the same manner.

Stop and think. Is this the way you want your mail, your magazines, and parcel post delivered? I sure don't.

I can remember when you could buy a newspaper for five cents, then it was ten cents, then 25 cents. Today the same newspaper with far more advertising costs 35 cents.

I can also remember when I was thankful if I was able to get $4 for a days work, if I could find it.

Now, try to get someone for $4 an hour, plus benefits. As Sherwood said, "If it's not broke, don't fix it".

Double standards

Editor:

As a longtime Lakeland area businessman, I find it most gratifying that Lakeland Newspapers and its staff has shown an interest in the ongoing controversy of what building codes and zoning standards are to be used, and by whom.

Each and every day starting with the Lake County Building and Zoning Dept., down to the Building Commissioner at the city or village level, decisions are made that effect our health and welfare and more often than not, our pocketbooks.

Shabby construction, building code abuse, improper and misused zoning applications, incompetent inspectors, double standards, favoritism, political interference, or just plain stupidity, are some of the factors that influence these decisions. Small wonder that citizen groups are sprouting up throughout Lake County to take some type of corrective action to remedy this situation.

I, like many of us are not really concerned about these things until they happen to us, as it happened to me.

In a situation where building plans were submitted, revisions made until they were approved, the village issued a building permit each, and every phase of construction was inspected and approved. The final inspection for occupancy was passed and signed, after meeting certain requirements, the village business license was approved and issued by the village clerk to be signed by the mayor, who refused to sign the license, for what is believed to be political reasons. Even after pulling the strings of the building commissioner to state, "that the engineering was not even close to what the plans call for," it was found that as stated in the Lakeland Press by Harold Bauer, Village of Round Lake Building Commissioner, the only problem remaining is that "a storm drain pipe had to be changed." This same pipe was inspected and approved on at least two occasions.

POLITICAL SHOWCASE—Democrats will be showcasing the November ticket for the first time Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 22 to 24, at the Zion Home & Trade Show. Manning the Democratic booth will be Gene Friedman, candidate for the 10th Congressional District; Grant Farrell, state rep. 62nd Dist.; Bob Gesiakowski, candidate for state senator, 31st Dist.; Julie Edwards, clerk of the circuit court; Robert Long, states attorney, and Bertha Ogrin and John Balen, Lake County Board. What, no candidate for sheriff?

Has anyone else noticed that the Democrats have slated three candidates from Antioch, right in the Republican "Heartland"? Gesiakowski, Farrell and Long all have ties with Antioch.

HIGH PROFILE—More than ever by the end of summer, more and more visitors will be resting their heads on Marriott pillows and sheets in Lake County. By then, the second Courtyard by Marriott will be open in Waukegan on Rte. 120. Surplus food release supply ample until June this year Illinois will meet most of its surplus food distribution commitments through June despite reductions by the federal government, Public Aid Director Edward T. Duffy said.

"Illinois will be in a much better position than other states over the next three months, because this department has been aggressive in obtaining surplus commodities from the federal government," Duffy said.

The state will supply a full allotment of honey, rice, cheese and milk in April and May. Some reductions for honey and rice may occur in June. Supplies of cheese, milk, butter, cornmeal and flour will be maintained at their usual levels through June.

Distribution of commodities after June will depend upon the future of the Temporary Food Assistance Program under the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. The agency has announced plans to phase out the program because of a dwindling surplus of food commodities provided by the nation's farmers.

Reductions announced earlier by the USDA for the months of April, May and June will affect other states more severely than Illinois.

The federal government will cut all rice and honey distribution starting this month. Federal cheese and milk allocations will be provided in April only. Flour, butter and cornmeal distribution will be maintained through June by the USDA.

Surplus commodities supplement the food supply of local food pantries and provide an additional source of nutrition for persons receiving food stamps. The surplus commodities program, started in 1982, serves 300,000 household persons a month in Illinois.

The USDA has shipped surplus food produced by American farmers to an Illinois warehouse several times a year. The Dept. of Public Aid supervises the distribution to charitable organizations around the state.

Persons requesting surplus food are required to sign a form stating their income does not exceed $573 a month as an individual, or $1,167 a month as a family.

Mulch makes garden grow

Soils in northeastern Illinois are usually heavy, cold and hard to work. The clays which cause this difficulty are the same thing that make the soils among the most productive in the world, according to the University of Illinois-Urbana Cooperative Extension Service.

Clay soils are touchy and need to be handled right if they are to provide roots of our plants with nutrients, moisture and air.

Soil that has been mistreated becomes hard and crusty when dry, and sticky when wet. Soil in good "tilth" is loose and easy to work, holds water, but is well drained and well aerated also.

The best way to improve the "tilth" of garden soil is to add organic matter and dig it in before planting. Any kind of organic matter is usable. Availability and price are usually the determining factors. When manures were available for the taking they were a good choice. Nowadays, they are expensive.

Shredded leaves are abundant because of burning restrictions. They are composted by many communities and free for the taking. In some areas, sawdust, fine wood chips, corn cobs or similar materials are available. Some of these may extract nitrogen from the soil, so you might need to apply a little extra at planting time.

Grass clippings are always available, but should be composted before using if treated with weed killers.

Apply a layer of the organic material three to six inches deep over the garden, and spade in as deeply as possible. If the garden is in raised beds, you can economize because none of your organic material will be wasted on walkways.

Most gardeners anticipate the need for organic matter each year. Be on the lookout for things such as bags of clippings, leaves in Fall, or whatever becomes available. You can add many of these things to your garden as mulch during the season, or start a compost pile so you will always have a supply available.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Richmond

Richmond Motor Sales has earned Chrysler Motors' most prestigious honor, the "Award for Excellence", for demonstrating the highest standards of dealership performance.

Grayslake

The Northern Illinois Association of Personnel Administrators will be having a dinner meeting Thursday, May 12, at the Country Squire Restaurant in Grayslake, Routes 120 and 45. There will be cocktails at 5:30 p.m., dinner at 6 p.m., and the program will begin at 7. The speaker will be Joe Cappel, columnist and publisher of Crain's Chicago Business. He will address the topic of "Gearing Up for the 21st Century". Issues covered will be: changing structure of corporate organization and its impact on employment, retraining a changing workforce, surviving in a service-based economy, regaining manufacturing strength in Illinois, decline and change of union organization, and impact of continued mergers and acquisitions. Contact Sue Geiger at (312)360-4170 for registration information before Tuesday, May 9.

Waukegan

Montgomery Ward is opening a new specialty store at Lakehurst Mall in Waukegan. This new store is a relocation of the one previously in Belvidere Mall. A grand opening breakfast reception for medial personnel and local V.I.P.s was scheduled for April 14. Following the breakfast, Mal Pavik, president, apparel group, was slated to speak and cut the grand opening ribbon with the assistance of Waukegan Mayor Robert Sabonjian.

Mundelein

Cheri L. Levy of Mundelein has been named a winner of the Squibb Corporation's prestigious Squibb Go-Getter Award for 1987. A medical surgical representative, Levy achieved the highest sales and other performance goals in her division to become one of only 59 representatives in the entire E.R. Squibb and Sons sales force of 700 people to win the award. Winners of the Go-Getter Award - which honors the representatives, managers, and directors who combine outstanding sales with superior service to the medical community - all receive an eight-day Caribbean cruise and a Squibb Gold Star pin. A Squibb employee for three years, Levy is active in the Illinois Pharmacists Association.

Whartons contribute to success

by BILL DOTSON

The family that plays together stays together, as the old saying goes, but what about the family that works together? The Wharton family can answer that question.

"We work well together," Wynelle Wharton says. "We have our squabbles sometimes, but everyone has a job to do and they do it."

John Wharton, Wynelle's husband, is the man in charge of Wharton Blacktopping, the business they operate out of their Grayslake home, with the help of their two sons and one daughter.

The sons, John R., 33, and Kelly, 29, are salesmen for the company and daughter Linda, who is a flight attendant, helps her mother with the office work occasionally.

John and Wynelle both proudly stress the fact that "there are no outside salesmen. It's a family-owned and operated corporation. We want to emphasize that," Wynelle said.

"Make sure to point out that blacktopping is our whole business. That's all we do," John added.

Explaining the nature of their business in a bit more detail, Wynelle said, "We do commercial and residential asphalt paving and sealcoating. Sealcoating is a maintenance of existing blacktop."

The Whartons are now entering their busiest time of the year, as evidenced by the fact that John had only a few minutes to converse before hurrying off to a business meeting, while Wynelle is frequently interrupted by phone calls inquiring about prices and other details.

"Our busy season runs about April through November," she explains. "Sometimes it gets hectic and I wish it (the work) was out of sight. We complain a lot, but we enjoy it."

They must. They have been doing it since 1954, when they first went into business for themselves in Ohio. They moved to Lake County in 1963, because they saw it was a growing area. They started with a house, one lot, and two trucks, and the business keeps expanding every year.

"John used to do the work himself," Wynelle said, "but the business has grown so much. We now have about 18 employees, all experienced men."

While John and his sons make all the sales calls, John also oversees the crew's work. He puts in very long work days.

"John's a workaholic," Wynelle says. "It takes hard work to keep a good reputation. Other companies have outside salesmen that don't have the interest like you find in a family-owned business."

Asked what they do in the off season, she answers "Mostly relax. We do some traveling."

But even in the so-called off season, their business still requires some attention. "People started calling for estimates in January," Wynelle said. "We start taking calls early but to do actual work, like sealing, for example, the weather must be hot and dry."

Clearly, the blacktopping business consumes much of the Wharton family's lives and that is the way it has always been. "Our sons have grown up in this business," Wynelle said. "John and I have been in the business almost all of our married life."

Bucar to oversee project

Dr. Albert A. Bucar, optometrist, of Antioch, has been named vice-president of the Vision-USA Board of Directors. Vision-USA (Volunteers In Service To Our Nation) is a non-profit charity organization developed by optometrists to provide eye care to people who do not qualify for government assistance but who cannot afford to pay for eye care themselves.

In addition to this humanitarian effort, Bucar organized the Illinois Optometric Association's War on Poverty Committee and has served as chairman of the Peer Review Committee of the Department of Public Aid.

Bucar has also been active in the Antioch community, having served as president of the Antioch Lions Club, chairman of Cub Scout Pack 900, first vice-president of the Lake County Mental Health Society Board of Directors and president of the St. Peter Grade School Board of Education. He is a member of the American Public Health Association and the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Bucar is past president of the American Optometric Association, Illinois Optometric Association, and Lake County Optometric Society.

'Working together' is theme of Secretaries Week forum

"Working Together" will be the theme for a Tuesday, April 26 program sponsored by the College of Lake County Center for Economic Development to celebrate Secretaries Week. The program, designed for the secretary and boss team, includes a catered buffet breakfast or luncheon and a workshop on learning to be a better working team.

The workshop speaker is Dr. Bill Cash, a nationally known training expert and author who will discuss developing work teams and methods to help bosses and secretaries work more efficiently and effectively as a team.

The program will be held at the Corporate Conference Center, Room C003, at the Grayslake campus. Teams may choose from two programs: breakfast at 8 a.m., followed by the workshop, or lunch at 12 noon, followed by the workshop.

The cost is $85 per team of two, which includes the meal, program, and carnations for each guest.

Reservations should be made by April 20. For more information and to make reservations, call (312)223-3615.

Ex-chairman to speak at meeting

The Lake County Business Industry Education Consortium has announced that its annual meeting will be held Friday, May 20, at Travenol Laboratories, 1 Baxter Parkway, Deerfield.

The agenda begins with breakfast at 8 a.m. Then at 8:30, special guest Harrison I. Steans, former chairman and chief executive officer of NBD Illinois, Inc., will speak on the topic of "I Have A Dream- and I would like to share it with you."

Steans, inspired by businessman Eugene Lang's challenge for East

Harlem, New York students to complete high school and go on to college, has embarked on his own "I Have A Dream" project. He and his family are implementing this concept with one of the Chicago schools. Steans will share his thoughts, inspirations and commitment to "I Have A Dream."

Those interested in attending the annual meeting should contact Jerry Gudauskas, Lake County Business Industry Education Consortium, 19525 W. Washington St., Grayslake, 60030, or phone (312)223-6681, ext. 242. A meeting invitation will be mailed for return of a final confirmation.

EDC to hold workshop on supervisory skills

The College of Lake County Center for Economic Development is sponsoring a four-session Supervisory Skills Workshop (CON 101-017) starting Thursday, May 5. All sessions will be held on Thursdays, from 8-10:30 a.m., in the Corporate Training Center, Room C003, at the Grayslake campus.

May 5 will focus on the "Role of the Supervisor" and cover topics such as multiple expectations, boss psychology and managing under pressure.

The May 12 session will feature "Communicating with Results", with discussion of listening skills and ways to improve communication.

On May 19, the subject will be "Practical Ways of Motivating Employees," including how to get the most out of your best workers and motivation techniques.

The final session will cover "Coaching for Improved Performance" on May 26 and will address problem employees vs. employee problems, individual differences, and knowing when to coach and when to counsel.

The workshop leader is Dr. Bill Cash, who has more than 20 years of experience in management for a Fortune 500 company. He has trained supervisors in a variety of corporate, manufacturing and service sector firms. He is also a nationally known author and popular seminar leader.

Workshop fee of $195 per person includes materials, coffee and rolls. Companies registering three or more people receive a discounted fee of $180 per person.

For more information, call (312) 223-3615.

1987 MUTUAL FUND SALES SECOND HIGHEST EVER

Sales of Stock, Bond and Income Funds

Sales of stock, bond and income mutual funds totaled $190.6 billion in 1987, second only to the all time record high, $215.8 billion in 1986, according to the Investment Company Institute, the national association of the U.S. mutual fund industry. The 1987 sales total was far in excess of the previous records established in 1983, 1984, and 1985.

For the fourth consecutive year, bond and income funds—which allow investors to participate in ownership of professionally managed portfolios of government-backed securities, mortgage-backed securities, corporate bonds, and municipal bonds—led the way in sales, with $124.4 billion.

Stock funds, buoyed by a nine-month bull market, accounted for a record $66.2 billion in annual sales. Government funds were the overall individual sales leader with $43.9 billion in 1987 sales, and growth and income funds led stock fund sales with $30.8 billion. There are more than 2,400 mutual funds, and the Institute estimates that 22 million U.S. households now own shares in a mutual fund.

Hainesville bait, tackle store plans grand opening

It's springtime, the days are longer, weather a little warmer.

In Lake County, that also means a chance for fishermen to be able to spend more time with their favorite hobby. And just in time for those long days on the boat, a new bait and tackle store is now open in Hainesville.

The store opened the first week of April and will have grand opening festivities through April 24. The store is open seven days a week.

"It's been pretty good," Cochran said of business so far. He said the location off a major highway led him to choose the site on Rte. 120, next to Barb's Florist.

Fishing equipment, bait and tackle are offered. "My goal is to provide a wide variety of fishing equipment at competitive prices to the population of the Lakeland area," Cochran said.

A 26' x 145' floruscant sign will be attracting customers and the business will serve more than 26,800 people in the Grayslake, Hainesville and Round Lake communities as well as other towns on the Chain 'O Lakes and Lake Michigan area.

Cochran was born in Chicago but his family later moved to Lake Villa. He was graduated from Grant Community High School.

For more information, contact Cochran at (312) 223-1233.

French study group to tour small community businesses

Forty-four French businessmen will descend on McHenry, Saturday April 23, as part of a mini study tour of local enterprises. They come from various sections of France and represent companies in aerospace, transport, communications and others.

They come under the sponsorship of the Foundation Franco Americaine, which fosters the development of exchanges between the United States and France in order to achieve mutual benefits. This visit is a follow-up to a similar which one took place in April of last year.

The itinerary includes visits to New York, Washington, and Chicago, where they will be exposed to the inner workings of large corporations and governmental agencies. The businessmen's desire to have exposure to a smaller community and its industries is the reason for their visit to McHenry. A full day of activity is planned with visits to Brake Parts, RAE Corporation, Gerstad Builders and Shamrock Farms.

The group will be greeted in the morning at City Hall by Mayor Busse and members of the City Council and Chamber of Commerce. Lunch will be served by the Northern Illinois Medical Center.

Business wins grant from legislature

Backyard Steak Pit restaurant of Gurnee is expected to save $1,500 annually in gas and electric bills, thanks to a state Interest Write-Down Grant, according to State Rep. Virginia Fredrick (R-Lake Forest).

The grant, which totals $522, will enable the restaurant to install heat recovery components. The Exxon Interest Write-Down Grant program, administered by the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, is designed to help businesses purchase energy-saving equipment. The grants are awarded for the prepayment of the businesses' loan interest.

According to Fredrick, this grant is important because it enables the restaurant to cutback on its overhead costs.

"We all know how much utility bills can cut into our pocketbooks. I'm glad a local business, which employs our residents, can spend less on bills and consequently, direct funds toward employees and other improvements," Fredrick said.

Chamber begins revamp of downtown businesses

McHenry is in the process of redeveloping its downtown area. It will begin with initiation of a survey of the businesses and owners of the building in each of the three major downtown sections.

This initial Downtown Revitalization phase will include the areas in and surrounding Riverside Dr., Main St., and Green St. in that order.

A personal visit will be paid to each of the businesses and the owners with follow-up programmed into meetings with the Downtown Revitalization Committee and block meetings within each area.

The entire survey process will last a period of seven weeks.

The process will involve the voluntary participation by each and every business and building owner.

Abbott hosts students for science, industry program

Nearly 175 science students and their teachers from 13 Lake County high schools attended one of three Science Student Days held at Abbott Laboratories.

Fifteen Abbott employees made presentations during the program which was designed to give high school students a close-up view of science in industry, to demonstrate practical applications of scientific techniques, and to broaden their exposure to careers in science.

Each day featured a tour of Abbott Park facilities, seminars on subjects related to scientific methods in the health-care industry, and complimentary lunch in the company's cafeteria. Students visited laboratories and attended sessions led by Abbott experts on AIDS, genetic engineering, horticulture, and pharmaceutical research.

Best food buys of the season

Food continues to be one of the better buys for consumers. Over the past year, grocery store food prices have risen less than half as fast as other items in the household budget.

Food prices have increased only about 2.4 percent from a year ago, compared to an increase of 5.2 percent for all personal consumption expenditures since this time last year.

Expect to see retailers promoting beef to stir up demand, particularly for cookout cuts. While wholesale beef prices have risen slightly, plentiful supplies of beef, pork, and chicken will probably keep retail prices on most cuts from rising very much.

Pork is in good supply, with loins and fresh hams among the cuts being purchased by retailers for sales. The average price of the 10 most popular retail pork cuts is 10 cents a pound less than a year ago.

Chicken also continues to be plentiful, with wholesale prices on whole fryers down from mid-March. Look for continued specials on leg quarters if interested in some inexpensive meals.

April is a peak shipping month for asparagus, artichokes, cabbage, escarole, endive, carrots, green onions, leaf lettuce, and radishes, so expect these vegetable to start arriving at the supermarket. Supplies of broccoli, parsnips, and spinach will be very good also.

Look for increasing supplies of strawberries, since April and May are the peak months for California berries. Apples, valencia oranges, d'anjou pears, and grapefruit are the other major fruits available this month.

Supplies are tight on canned tomatoes and tomato products, green beans, lima beans, and peas. Prices have increased on some of these items in some places. Canned corn and carrots are in adequate supply. Prices of canned beets have dropped. Cling peaches are in tight supply with the stock of some can sizes sold out. Canned pears and applesauce continue to be available at steady prices. Expect to see some sales on canned pineapple.

Legislators to break bread

United Way of Lake County and the Lake County Advisory Board and Coordinating Council for Mental Health, Substance Abuse and Developmental Disabilities Services (AB/C Council) will hold their annual Legislative Breakfast with senators and representatives serving Lake County. Federal and state legislators will meet to discuss legislative issues of importance to recipients of social services, local funding sources and agency providers.

Representatives of local funding sources and administrators and board members of Lake County agencies dependent on state and/or federal funding and policy development are invited. The breakfast will provide an opportunity for legislators and agency representatives to become better acquainted and exchange views and information.

The event is Friday, April 22, from 8 to 10 a.m. at the Country Squire, 19133 W. Hwy. 120, Grayslake, just west of the intersection of Rts. 120 and 45. Cost is $10 per person. Checks should be made payable to the Lake County Health Dept. Information can be obtained from the AB/C Council office, (312)360-6704. The public is invited.

Geo-Karis rejects Harvard invite

State Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion) of the 31st Dist., has been invited to participate in a four-day Women in Leadership program in June at Harvard University's Kennedy School of Government in Boston, but she has rejected the honor.

"As state Senate Republican caucus chairwoman, it was a great honor to receive the invitation," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "Unfortunately, the program will take place during the key days of our Illinois legislative session, when bills of the highest importance will be considered and decided. As a legislative leader, I cannot be away from Springfield that week."

Sen. Geo-Karis said she has declined the invitation with great regret, even though it would have given her an opportunity to meet with about 35 women in legislative leadership positions in various parts of the United States. The program is sponsored by the State Legislative Leaders Foundation and the Institute of Politics at Harvard's Kennedy School.

Vernon Hills radium woes lights up county session

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

After wrangling for a half an hour over where on the agenda to put it, County Board members will have to wait a few weeks longer to decide what to do about a proposed radium variance in Vernon Hills.

The variance, which had already been granted, became a subject of contention because Mike Graham (R-Libertyville) wanted to express his views on the subject before the full board. But board rules forbid any subject to be brought up for official action unless official notice has been given in advance. So rather than placing the item under the public service section of the agenda, where action on it could be taken, it was placed under miscellaneous business, where board members could only comment on it.

Vernon Hills has a radium content in its water supply which exceeds Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) standards. The variance would not allow the problem to continue indefinitely, but would give the village up to five years to come into compliance with the standard. If the variance is rescinded, Vernon Hills would be prohibited from any new development until it is in full compliance with IEPA regulations.

The problem of excessive radium in drinking water is common to villages which rely primarily on deep wells. The radium is naturally occurring.

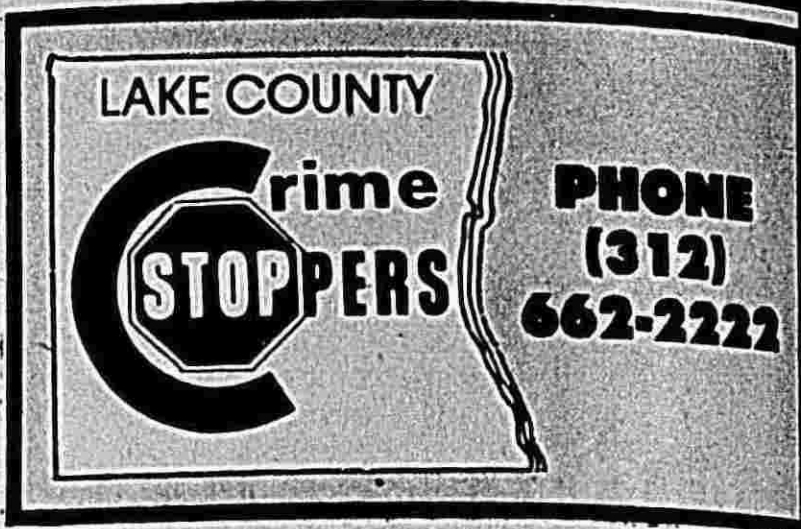

After extensive debate, the board voted to allow the item to be moved into the public service portion of the agenda but James LaBelle (R-Zion) said he would only go along with the motion provided that no action would be allowed on the subject. Though some board members argued that it had been well-publicized that the subject would come up at the regular meeting, board vice-chairman Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) noted that in fairness to Vernon Hills, no action should be taken until that village was notified.

Apparently, Graham was swayed by these arguments for when the item came up on the agenda, he said, "This is a very serious problem that touches on issues of annexation, health, density and taxes. So I will seek a special call meeting to cover the subject in detail and provide full notice to all interested parties."

Fraternity Elects Officers

The College of Lake County chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, a national honor fraternity, has elected officers for the 1988-89 school year. The elections were held Monday, April 11. The new officers are: Eric Ariazi, President, Zion; Troy Sherman, Vice President, Grayslake; Patricia Martinez, Treasurer, Waukegan; Sheri Mullin, Public Relations Secretary, Ingleside; and Stacey Clifford, Social Events/Initiation Coordinator, Gurnee.

Requirements for membership include a 3.5 or above grade average, academic excellence as judged by the faculty, and recognized qualities of leadership. The goal of the fraternity is to nurture academic excellence.

Crime Stoppers and the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. are seeking information on an aggravated battery and criminal sexual assault which occurred on Thursday, March 24, at approximately 4 a.m. in the area of Townline Rd. west of Alleghany Rd., near Campbell Airport.

The offending vehicle is described as a possible 1979 or older Chevrolet van in beater condition, two-tone green in color, or green with a white stripe. The vehicle is further described as only having two front seats.

Two offenders were involved - both described as white males, 26 to 28 years of age, five foot, five inches to five foot seven inches in height, 160 to 180 pounds, one offender having collar length blonde hair parted in the middle, the second offender having brown hair and a mustache.

Anyone having any information about this crime or any other felony crime or felony fugitive, contact Crime Stoppers at (312) 662-2222.

If the information results in an arrest and indictment, the caller will be eligible for a cash reward up to $1,000.

Ostrander honored

Kimberly Jo Ostrander of Fox Lake was recognized at the University of Michigan annual honors convocation in Ann Arbor, Mich. She is a student in the college of literature, Science and the arts.

Ostrander was given "class honors" for an undergraduate academic record equal to at least half A's and the rest B's for two terms (one for new students) during 1987.

3 STEPS TO SMARTER CARPET BUYING

CHOOSE THE RIGHT COLOR

When deciding on colors, remember that the carpet will be the most important color in the room. Darker colors tend to dominate a room, whereas lighter colors tend to blend into a room.

CHOOSE THE RIGHT STYLE

When choosing the style, take into consideration how each room is used. A family room for example has far more traffic than a living room, and therefore a denser pile may be needed.

MAKE SURE IT'S A WEAR-DATED CARPET WITH STAINBLOCKER™

Regardless of the color and style you choose, the most important thing to look for is the Wear-Dated™ label. And because Wear-Dated™ Carpet with StainBlocker™ has superior stain protection, even if you have kids and pets, you can consider a light colored carpet.

Let us help you explore all the new decorating possibilities Wear-Dated™ Carpet with StainBlocker™ has to offer.

Churchill now goes for Bush

State Rep. Robert W. Churchill, (R-Lake Villa) of the 62nd district, coordinator of the Bob Dole for President Campaign, announced he is changing his support to George Bush for President. Churchill coordinated the Dole campaign in the 12th congressional district. Dole dropped out of the race just before the April 5 primary in Wisconsin.

"The time has come for Republicans to put aside their differences and prepare for the fall election" Churchill said. "As the Democrats continue to fight and feud, Republicans are joining forces behind Bush. It's time to stand united behind our candidate and again elect a Republican president to the White House."

Churchill is now serving in his third, two-year term in the Illinois House and his second year as Republican minority whip, one of the only three leadership positions awarded to Lake County Legislators. He is seeking re-election in the November general election.

Storyteller will visit

Patrick Ball, harper and storyteller in the tradition of the Celtic bards, will appear at the David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, in two shows on Saturday, April 23, at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

An acclaimed master of an art lost for more than 200 years, Ball plays the Irish wire-strung harp in the manner of the ancient Celts, using the fingernails rather than fingertips to produce a delicate and complex sound. His repertoire includes both traditional folk melodies and the compositions of the great Irish 17th- and 18th-century harper Turlough O'Carolan.

Ball's musical artistry has arisen as a complement to his earlier career as a storyteller, with a repertoire including epic legends, folk tales, and more contemporary stories from British, Irish, and American literary and traditional sources.

Opening both shows will be long-time Adler House favorites, Phil Cooper and Margaret Nelson, whose repertoire also includes O'Carolan and other instrumentals, as well as traditional ballads and contemporary songs in the folk idiom.

Admission is charged.

12th township added to movement

Another township—West Deerfield—has gained representation in Citizens for Better Building and Zoning (CBBZ).

This makes 12 of Lake County's 16 townships involved in the movement to correct building and zoning irregularities, according to Mary Campbell, Lake Villa chairperson of the movement which also is pushing for the ouster of County Building Officer Robert Streicher.

Forty-five persons attended the third general meeting of CBBZ held Saturday, April 9, at Prairie View.

Packets on the Illinois Freedom of Information Act were distributed to assist citizens in obtaining information from Streicher's office. Jay Campbell presented an update on efforts to gather petitions calling for Streicher's removal.

Joseph Bogacz of Wauconda Township presented the treasurer's report. Josana Berdzinski of Antioch made an appeal for contributions to defray mailing and printing costs.

Guest speaker was Atty. Robert Long of Antioch, Democratic nominee for state's attorney. Incumbent State's Atty. Fred Foreman, a Republican, will be invited to address a future meeting.

Campbell stressed that CBBZ is non-partisan and non-political. She said

CBBZ has no connection with the Liberty Lakes movement other than a handful of Lake Villa area residents belonging to both organizations.

New rules for boaters to follow

With the spring recreational boating season about to start, skippers should begin making themselves aware of state boating code revisions or additions which have gone into effect this year.

The major change is in the expansion of watercraft types that now must be registered and titled under the boating law. With only one exception, all types of watercraft must be registered under HB 2219, a boating code amendment, which became effective Jan. 1. The exception is sailboards, which need not be either registered or titled.

Under the new law, boaters not only must continue to register and title all mechanically-powered boats and sailboats over 12 feet in length, they now must also register and title non-powered crafts such as canoes, rowboats, rafts, kayaks, and sailboats 12 feet long or less, all of which were exempt previously. But, under the amended boating law, non-powered crafts are exempt from either registration or titling if they are used only on waters completely impounded by land belonging to the watercraft's owner. The exemption does not apply, though, to impounded waters controlled by a club or association.

Watercraft documented by the U.S. Coast Guard, usually large craft such as yachts, have been exempt from registration and titling heretofore. Under new law, they still do not need to be titled by Illinois, but they must be registered with the state if they are used on state waters for more than 60 days within a calendar year.

New fee schedules bear no relationship to those of the past. Previously, a boater paid $13 for registration and titling of his watercraft, regardless of its type or its length (excepting sailboats under 12 feet, which were exempt). Fees now are determined by length and, in some instances, also by type.

To register a Class A watercraft for three years and to title it permanently costs $13 and, for renewal of the registration, the fee is $6. The four numbered classes, the size watercraft they include, the initial cost for a three-year registration and permanent titling, and the renewal fee for each class are as follows:

Class 1 - all watercraft less than 16 feet long, $16 for initial registration and titling and $9 for renewal; Class 2 - all watercraft 16 feet to less than 26 feet, $19 initially and $12 for renewal; Class 3 - all watercraft at least 26 feet long but less than 40 feet, $22 and $15, respectively; and Class 4 - all watercraft 40 feet or more, $25 and $18, respectively.

Transfers of registration and titling cost $12 for all boats except those documented by the Coast Guard. Owners of documented watercraft pay only $5 to transfer registration. Since they are not required to be titled by the state, their owners escape the $7 charge for transfer of title. Dealer or manufacturer registration is $10.

Watercraft documented by the Coast Guard pay the same fee for registration and renewal. Those charges, pegged to the boat's length, are as follows: boats at least 16 feet long but less than 26 feet in length, $12; 26 feet to less than 40 feet, $15; and 40 feet or more, $18.

When a watercraft is registered in Illinois, the owner receives a registration card and decals. The registration card must be available for inspection whenever the boat is in use, and both the decals and the registration card number must be displayed on the boat.

Under the new regulations, owners of documented boats and non-powered canoes and kayaks need not display the numbers, but they are required to attach the decal, which indicates the period of registration by its color.

Another change in the State Boating Code requires that all boats, regardless of size must carry at least one wearable U.S. Coast Guard-approved Personal Flotation Device (PFD) for each person on board.

Other rule changes this year:

— A boat propelled solely by an electric motor no longer is required to carry a fire extinguisher. The change represents a victory in the long battle by boaters, boating organizations, and the Dept. of Conservation to eliminate the redundant requirement that all "mechanically-powered" boats carry a fire extinguisher.

For the first time, the State Boating Code provides protection for skindivers. It bans the operation of a watercraft within 150 feet of a diving flag. An exception is made for watercraft directly associated with the diving activity.

For further information on Illinois boating laws, call the Conservation Dept.'s Division of Law Enforcement at (217) 782-6431.

Booth tries fighting back, wins

Alan Booth of Gurnee sent a challenge into David Horowitz and his "Fight Back" tv consumer's guide. Booth sent Horowitz a mail-order Condor golf ball guaranteed by the manufacturer to travel farther than other brand name balls. "Fight Back" had California golf-pro Al Crawford tee-off with 40 balls which traveled over 250 yards apiece. The Condor traveled the farthest, 284 yards, as promised, but Horowitz and his staff discovered that the Condor is a tiny bit smaller than a regulation ball and therefore could not be used in tournament play.

Buckardt will lead tour of Ryerson nature trail

Participants of this year's Smith Symposium at the Edward L. Ryerson Conservation Area in Deerfield will have a special chance to enjoy the preserve's award-winning nature trails. On Sunday, May 8, senior naturalist and site manager Nan Buckardt will lead a tour of the Smith Nature Trail, a combination of log cabins and paths that hold interpretive exhibits.

The trail bisects the climax woods that the preserve is famous for, ending at the Des Plaines River. Buckardt will guide people through its highlights, which feature an outstanding profusion of wildflowers at this time of year. Trillium, toothwort, and wild ginger should all be in bloom.

Having been involved in the two-year project from start to finish, Buckardt will be able to share behind-the-scenes stories on its development. Joining her will be exhibit designer, Frank Madsen.

Buckardt is well-known amongst educators in the state for her leadership on environmental education. She is a board member of the Environmental Education Assn. of Illinois and a facilitator of the national "Project Wild" and "Project Learning Tree" curriculums.

"Nan is one of the most learned and talented of the naturalists we've had at Ryerson Woods," said Don Strenger, president of the Lake

Nan Buckardt

County Forest Preserve Dist. "She's a sharp observer and has a wonderful rapport with groups there, having 15 years of experience in the field."

This free program is from 10 a.m. to noon and is followed by the Symposium's feature event, "Flight for Survival", a lecture about the near-extinction and subsequent revival of the American bald eagle.

Advanced registration is required for most Symposium events; call (312) 948-7750 for registration information and/or a full schedule of programs.

Fox, story & cast make 'Bright Lights' a success

by BILL DOTSON

It's too early to tell if "Bright Lights, Big City" will be a box-office hit, but it will be interesting to see. It could go either way, because it has a lot working for it and a lot working against it.

Star Michael J. Fox is, of course, one of the hottest and most talented young actors working today. His popularity may draw an audience and well it should, because here, in his second dramatic role ("Light of Day" was first), Fox proves himself capable of handling a part with real weight. This is some of the best work he's ever done.

But don't expect to see variations of Alex Keaton or even Marty McFly (his "Back To The Future" character). The part of Jamie Conway, a self-destructive cocaine abuser, is a far cry from Fox's past work.

Another plus for the film is the superb supporting cast, featuring some of my favorite (and very talented) performers from three generations. They include Kiefer Sutherland (Donald's kid), Phoebe Cates, Tracy Pollan (Fox's real-life honey), Dianne Wiest, John Houseman, Swoosie Kurtz, Jason Robards, and Frances Sternhagen (best known to TV viewers as Cliff's mom on "Cheers" and Mrs. Marsh on toothpaste commercials).

The film takes place in the span of a week of Conway's life, which he has screwed up so much that, during that week, we see it finally all begin to unravel. Through a series of flashbacks and other interesting revelations, we learn how things got this way.

The film is based on the much-acclaimed novel of the same name by Jay McInerney, who also wrote the screenplay. The fact that he adapted the book himself is no doubt one big reason why the film retains the style and quality of the novel so well.

Watching "Bright Lights, Big City", I couldn't help but remember a similarly themed film, "Less Than Zero." "Lights" is much more successful at illustrating the effects of drug abuse on the so-called yuppie set, without seeming to glamorize it, the way "Zero" was accused of doing.

"Bright Lights, Big City" may not have aliens, Rambo or fraternity parties, but it has a first-class cast, a powerful story, and some things to say worth listening to.

'Bright Lights, Big City' goes slow in fast lane

by DAN BECKER

"Bright Lights, Big City", dumb movie.

I had always believed that movies had a two-fold purpose: to entertain and to intrigue. "Bright Lights, Big City" does either one or the other, but it depends upon the moviegoer.

If one is interested in symbolism and hidden meanings, this movie is the proverbial "it". But if entertainment is the scope of one's delights, this movie is the proverbial "stinker".

The former first. The symbolism is not hidden in the movie; in fact, it knocks you over the head and you don't need to be an English major to figure out the correlation between the "coma baby" and the main character.

Michael J. Fox portrays a cocaine-snorting, alcohol-drinking, fun-time kind of guy. This is not a stretch for Fox, as he portrays the same kind of character he always has in the past. (Except that this time he's a cocaine-snorting, alcohol-drinking, fun-time kind of guy who doesn't go "Back to the Future" or turn into a werewolf).

In a span of several hours, Jamie Conway (Fox) snorts several lines of cocaine, pops a few valium, and drinks like a fish. His job suffers, his wife leaves him, and, all-in-all, he's a mess. Surprise. How many times do you see a cocaine-snorting, alcohol-drinking, fun-time kind of guy who has a successful marriage and keeps his job?

There is no exposition until the latter end of the movie. By that time, most would be fed-up with Conway's problems. It would have been nice to find out why Conway never returns his younger brother's phone calls, eschews him, and runs when Conway finds his brother waiting for him on his doorstep. It would have been nice to know a little about his estranged wife.

Was she really in Paris modeling? Was she really in town? Was she really a necessary character in the movie? Was the movie really necessary?

"Bright Lights, Big City" goes nowhere. It takes the audience for a slow ride in the fast lane and seems to be just a two-hour commercial. The acting was just so-so, the plot was boring, and at the end, it didn't seem to matter if Conway would live or die.

'Bright Lights' trio

ROCK TRACKS

By Rob Ferrus

It's hard to imagine the rock world without one of its most original and important bands — The Kinks — but Ray Davies, who is finishing a musical based on the life of Jules Verne, and who also has a movie in the works, cites internal conflict as the main reason for the possible split.

The Kinks are, in addition to Davis, Jim Rodford, Ian Gibbons, Bob Henrit, and Ray's brother, guitarist Dave Davies, who has been with the band since its inception, and whose differences with his brother have often caused friction. "There will always be the rivalry and the jealousies," says Ray about his relationship with his brother. "but he's all right. He's a mixed bag. I think he's the last person I [really] know anything about. I do know that this new live album we recorded in two nights as opposed to choosing from thirty shows...I had thought at the time that he was playing down a bit, not giving it everything. But when I played the tapes back and started mixing it, I saw he was giving a really controlled performance and breaking out when he had to, which is really great for Dave."

As for the much older tunes, Ray says he plays them sparsely, but admits that one evening he would like to play all of them one after another. The Kinks love doing obscure "B" sides like "Who'll Be Next In Line" at sound checks.

"The Road, the new Kinks album is, says Davies, 'Without doubt the best of our live albums.'

Second City of Spain playful Barcelona

Barcelona, the laid-back European, Spanish and Catalan city of 3 million people that beat out Paris, Brisbane, Amsterdam and Belgrade for the 1992 Summer Olympics, is Europe's hot new tourist destination. It is a university city, a center for artistic and theatrical experimentation and a showplace of art and architecture.

The most interesting, and easily walkable, portion of Barcelona is the Gothic Quarter, where you will find Roman ruins, gargoyles and stately Renaissance mansions. While in the quarter, visit the Picasso Museum and the 13th

Tips help in taking cruise pics

Here are five tips to help Lakeland cruisers to get great photos while aboard the Stardancer.

1. Don't lean on a rail or bulkhead (wall to you landlubbers) while aiming your camera. You will transmit the ship's vibrations to the camera and get fuzzy pictures.

2. Use a fast film (200 ASA) so you can use faster shutter speeds to lessen the effect of camera shake.

3. Aboard ship, try for spectacular sunrises or sunsets. They are easy to take since almost any exposure yields a pleasing result.

4. If you take a photo of the Stardancer when she's berthed in one of the Mexican ports, try to "frame" the ship with an arching palm frond or tree branch. Or include one or two of your fellow Lakeland passengers in the foreground of the picture to lead the eye toward the ship.

5. Bring plenty of film and shoot a lot of pictures. Film is cheap compared to the cost of a vacation and you will increase your chances of returning with some great shots to share with your family and friends.

Indian Talk at Volo Bog

Ever wondered what the Indians were like that lived in Lake or McHenry Counties? How did they live? What were their houses like? What did they eat? Who were their friends and who were their enemies?

For some thought-provoking insights into the lives and customs of these Native Americans, Volo Bog State Natural Area will host a three-hour program conducted by Craig Pfannkuche. He is the president of the Illinois Association for the Advancement of Archaeology and a board member of the McHenry County Historical Society.

century cathedral where on Sunday morning you can join city residents dancing the Sardana in front of the church.

Much of the city's splendor is in the astonishing architecture created by the brilliant, some say mad, architect, Antonio Gaudi. His structures contain an unforgettable combination of Arabic, Gothic, Art Nouveau and naturalism. Most famous is LaSagrada Familia (Holy Family) Church, begun in 1882 and still under construction. It combines fanciful 300-foot spires topped with colorful Dali-like confections and naturalistic modern stone work with stained glass windows and Gothic arches. A delightful place to spend an afternoon is Guell Park, where singularly whimsical buildings are also unmistakably Gaudi's.

Future site of the Olympics is Montjuic Park, among whose attractions are the starkly modern Joan Miro Art Gallery and the Spanish Village, which contains 100 architectural reproductions of Spanish towns.

If you've a head for heights, take the cable car from Miramar on Montjuic Hill for a ride high above the harbor. You'll get a breathtaking view of the city nestled between the blue Mediterranean and the hills of Catalonia.

Lakeland Newspapers cruise, act fast to board

There is limited space still available on the May 14 cruise to the Mexican Riviera. Lakeland Newspapers has released its unreserved cabins, but as long as space is available late reservations can be accepted at the low Lakeland price.

The price of this group tour is actually so low that we have never been allowed to publish it. It includes airfare from O'Hare to Los Angeles, transfers from airport to dock, all meals and an eye-popping midnight buffet which is prepared by award-winning chefs.

When considering what might be spent for airfare or gas, hotels and meals, shows, entrance fees and other extras, the Lakeland Newspapers-sponsored cruise is a bargain vacation. One gets the relaxation and sociability of life on board, plus the advantage of seeing three exciting vacation destinations without worrying about extra costs, reservations or unpacking bags. Act fast to get aboard! Call (312) 948-9116 or (312) 724-7354 for price and information.

Cruise into Mother's Day

It's not too late to present Mom with the gift of a lifetime-the vacation of a lifetime. She'll feel at home with friends from the Lakeland area, whom she'll meet at a get-acquainted party the first night out. And she won't have to worry about transfers, baggage or reservations.

If a special wedding anniversary is coming up in the family, what better way to celebrate than with a second honeymoon aboard the MV Stardancer.

The Lakeland Newspapers' sponsored cruise to the Mexican Riviera is available at the low Lakeland price as long as there are cabins left.

Who is "O'Hare" anyway?

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

O.K. you trivia buffs. Just who is O'Hare Airport named after? Better yet, why does the baggage checker put a tag on your luggage reading "ORD" to get your bags back to O'Hare?

O'Hare was Edward "Butch" O'Hare, a World War II fighter pilot. He was awarded the first congressional Medal of Honor in 1942. He is credited for saving the U.S. Carrier Lexington from nine Japanese bombers. He shot down five, and damaged a sixth in what has been called the most daring single action in the history of combat aviation.

This was only the first of six other major medals won by this brave pilot. Butch O'Hare lost his life in 1943 leading one of the first radar-guided night attacks on a formation of Japanese bombers.

So why is the airport code for O'Hare "ORD"? There is both an "O" and an "R" in O'Hare, but I sure can't find a "D".

O'Hare Airport was an army airbase before it started accepting commercial flights. Before that, it was an apple orchard. The army decided to name the airfield for its prior use. "ORD" is actually an abbreviation for O'Hare Airport's former name, "Orchard Airport".

By the way, Butch O'Hare was from St. Louis, not Chicago. So why didn't St. Louis name their airport after this great war hero? St. Louis' airport was already named after a great pharmacist by the name of Lambert. (Just kidding, St. Louis.)

Life-size stage portrays 'Diary of Anne Frank'

Tears were in some eyes of the audience at the close of the poignant stage play, "The Diary of Anne Frank," at Palette Masque & Lyre (PM&L) Theater in Antioch Friday. The performance will be repeated this Friday and Saturday evening, April 22-23.

Dawn Flood of Lake Villa made her PM&L debut with a vivid portrayal of the adolescent Anne's emotional swings. Dawn's previous experience was at Antioch High School and studying with Ann Cusak at the Piven Theatre Workshop in Evanston.

The play is based on the book, "Anne Frank: Diary of a Young Girl." In this true story, she described her experiences and feelings while she and her Jewish family and friends were being hidden from the Nazis by the Dutch for three years during World War II.

The slow action in the play's early scenes was broken only by periods of tension and fear they might be discovered. This helped the audience feel how boring and frustrating it must have been for Anne and the others imprisoned in their secret attic hiding place, where they had to remain perfectly quiet all day and were never able to go outside or even downstairs.

The action and tension picked up in the second act. The full-size stage at PM&L somehow brings the audience more closely into their lives than a little brightly-lit screen on a TV box with all the interruptions of home. A different version of Anne Frank's story was also running in a TV series.

Part of this realism also can be credited to the efforts of the set construction and stage crews with the two-story set construction. Stage director was Deane Jones, with many PM&L helpers.

Another PM&L newcomer, Sam Barnes of Antioch, gave a convincing performance as Peter Van Daan, the shy schoolboy who eventually became Anne's friend. Special thanks were tendered to the Biel family for the loan of their well-behaved black cat, Sam, to play Peter's pet "Mouschi."

Compliments also go to the other cast members, especially Patty Workman of Twin Lakes, who somehow managed to fade into the background as Anne's quiet, soft-mannered older sister. Their mother and father are played effectively by Colleen Jordan, Woodstock, and Bob Andresen, Kenosha.

Mickey Mandel, Fox Lake, portrayed the costume-conscious Mrs. Van Daan, who persisted in polishing her fingernails despite the difficult situation. Her husband, Gerry Mandel, played the always-hungry Mr. Van Daan.

Rick Lawrence, Wadsworth, was the explosive Mr. Dussel, who shared the attic prison with the two families. Their helpful Dutch friends were Wanda Schaefer, Antioch, as Miep, and Bill Finley, Round Lake, as Mr. Kraler.

The play was directed by Ken Smouse, who took over at a last-minute request from Lou Jones, president of PM&L. Jones, who was busily videotaping the performance, explained that unexpected pressures at work prevented him from following through as director.

Tickets can be reserved in advance or theater dinner arrangements procured with several restaurants in the area.

Bog puts birds in spotlight

Birdwatching, or birding as it is often called, is fast becoming an All-American pastime. There are many different extremes of birders, from young beginners to seasoned veterans, from armchair watchers to 24-hour marathoners.

It seems such a simple sport, yet it can become complicated. To someone just starting out, it seems like hundreds of questions arise.

With that in mind, Volo Bog State Natural Area will host a day-long workshop on Saturday, May 14, conducted by Volo Bog volunteer Marvin Schwartz. The workshop begins with a two-hour indoor session at 10 a.m. discussing everything from choosing the right binoculars and field guides to observing bird behavior. A half hour lunch break will precede a two to three hour field session where participants will put the skills covered to work. Participants are asked to bring a lunch, field guides and binoculars, if available. Pre-registration is required: phone Volo Bog State Natural Area at (815)344-1294. The bog is at 28478 W. Brandenburg Rd., Ingleside.

In forensics meet

Six Central High School students will be competing in the state forensics meet. They are, Barbara Glover, Sonya Goke, Madeline Kuhlman, Gwenda McLamb, Linda McLamb and Bryan Rahn.

'Breakfast with Les & Bess' Kirk Players new production

Once more, it's that time of year to not only get out and work around the yard but, in the evening, to relax at Mundelein High School while enjoying the antics of Mundelein's very own, Kirk Players.

This new presentation is apt to remind some parents of teens, of some of the mind boggling stunts their own children or friends of theirs, were involved in. Others, after seeing the family of Les and Bess might even appreciate their own family more. Of course, if all children were all perfect what would we have to moan and groan about to friends, or to tell grandchildren about?

The curtain of this light-hearted comedy will rise at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30, at the Mundelein High School, located on Hawley St. Tickets are $4 for adults, $2 for students and $1 for senior citizens and children under 12. Proceeds will benefit the VFW Military Order of the Cootie. For information call, (312)566-6594 or (312)949-8858.

Les and Bess Dischinger, (Hill Carter and Kathy Russ), have been the co-hosts of a morning talk show, from their living room, for 20 years. Bess feels their life is glamorous and sophisticated whereas Les is beginning to find their social life phony and thinks its time for a change. His best friend, Nate (Bob Tomas) agrees with him.

Imagine their shock when Shelby Dischinger (Alaine Lubin) returns home from a party with a Navy man, Ensign Roger Everson (Jeff Lynn) and blithely announces he is her husband. (Must have been some party!)

On top of this, Les and Bess receive a call from the police station. It seems their son David Rick Bergmann) has been arrested for driving his car into the lake at Central Park. This should give you a hint of what's in store with this family and their friends. (Stage manager for this production is Carol Marie Fischesser assisted by Floyd Baker).

Kirk Players

Les and Bess and family are on the air with Kathy Russ, left, playing Bess, and Hill Carter, playing Les with Rick Bergmann(standing) as they blame, Eve Lubin and Jefferey Lind in new Kirk Players production.

Dells auto show set with flea market, May 21

Rev up engines, pull down the shades and cruise on over to the second annual Wisconsin Dells Auto Show and Antique Flea Market, May 21 and 22 at Bowman Park.

More than 750 sports cars, classics, street rods, customs and imports will be on display beginning at 9 a.m., Saturday. Judging begins at 10 a.m. both days with an awards ceremony at 2 p.m. on Sunday, when the "Best of Show" will be crowned with a six-foot tall trophy valued at over $100.

More than 100 other trophies, including the popular "People's Choice" and "Participants Trophy" will be awarded.

CORRECTION

Brother Blake and Sister Julia's last name is Higginbotham not Higginbottom as reported in last week's Weekend feature on their founding of the Rock of Round Lake. According to Brother Blake he was ordained by the Presbytery of the Rock of Panama and not a self-ordained minister as reported.

Cheerleaders

The new varsity football cheerleaders at Wilmot High School are: Kelly Jendricks, Becky Holst, Julie Gray, Rhonda LeClair, Marilyn Renner, and Rita Stohr. The junior varsity cheerleaders are: Michelle Borri, Amanda Hinkle, Heather Lindemann, and Theresa Kiel. Ruth Borowski is the cheerleader advisor.

Returning by popular demand this year will be a Maxwell Street Day on Saturday in downtown Wisconsin Dells, and the antique flea market, beginning at 6 a.m. in the park.

The antique flea market will feature 15 exhibitors displaying vintage clothing, jewelry and toys, car memorabilia and collectibles.

New this year is an automobile swap meet to be held at the Wisconsin Dells High School Parking lot on Iowa Ave.

Participants and visitors can also experience over 60 unique family attractions in the Wisconsin Dells area while visiting the auto show.

Details on this year's two-day event are available from the Wisconsin Dells Visitor and Convention Bureau, P.O. Box 390, Wisconsin Dells, Wisc. or call toll-free, 1-(800)-22-DELLS.

What's Happening

Antique bottle club

The antique bottle club of Northern Illinois will present the 14th annual Antique Bottle, advertising and table-top collectible show and sale. It will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Sunday, May 22 at the Mundelein Holiday Inn. Adult admission is $1. Free appraisals will be available. The Antique Bottle Club meet once a month to display and discuss old bottles. The Antique Bottle Club has existed for over 14 years and is a member in good standing of the Federation of Historical Bottle Clubs.

IBM-PC workshop

A three-hour workshop will be conducted on several dates this summer at the Lake County Area Vocational Center, in Grayslake. This workshop is designed to give a beginner, or potential buyer the skills necessary to begin to use the IBM-PC with confidence. This is a "hands-on" experience course, with one IBM-PC per participant. Thursday evening sessions will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. and those interested may register for May 26, June 23, or July 21. Saturday afternoon sessions will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on May 7, June 4, or August 13. Cost is $50 per person. For information call Jim Sands at (312)223-6681, ext. 218.

CLC presents song program

The College of Lake County presents "Songs You Can See," a program for the whole family at 7:30 p.m. on Wed., April 27 in the lake campus Auditorium. In this popular program, chalk-talk artist Peggy Lipschitz and singer Rebecca Armstrong combine talents to present musical stories that are a fascinating mixture of sight and sound. Admissions, adults $1, children 50 cents. For more information, call (312)223-6601 ext. 300.

Thank You

The family of Richard Price, who was hit by a Lake County snowplow at the intersection of Deep Lake Rd. and 173 on February 12, 1988 would like to extend their sincere thanks for all the support, prayers, cards, gifts and visits from their family and friends. Richard is now home, attending Antioch High School and doing rehabilitation at St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan. Special thanks to Richard's co-workers at Raymond Chevrolet in Antioch, Illinois, his school friends and the Antioch football team and managers for their exceptional kindness, support and gifts. Four very special people we would like to thank are: Raymond Scarpelli Jr., for being with Richard at the scene of the accident that day and Raymond Scarpelli Sr., owner of Raymond Chevrolet in Antioch for his daily calls from Florida, gifts, kindness and treating our son Rich like his own son, also Steven Wapon, assistant Principal and former football coach at Antioch High School, for his "pep talks" with Rich at the Sacred Heart Rehabilitation Center which made Rich work harder in therapy. Rich would say, "Mr. Wapon said therapy is just like football practice, a lot of hard work and I can do it." One other very special person we would like to thank is Mike Rasch, an employee of Raymond Chevrolet, who has done so much for Rich and our family during this time with daily calls, frequent visits, sincere kindness, and much much more. Thank you to these four people just does not seem to be enough, we will always remember your special kindness. We would also like to thank the Antioch Rescue Squad and the Flight For Life helicopter crew from Northern Illinois Medical Center. You did a fantastic job! Our sincere thanks to all. Food Fest celebration set for Lake Geneva

Take Mom out of the kitchen and into the country to a Food Fest at the Abbey on Lake Geneva in Fontana, Wisc., May 6 to 8. This will be the fourth culinary weekend planned at the resort and filled, as usual, with cooking classes, tastings and food facts and fancies! The cooking classes will be coordinated and moderated by Paul Lindemuth, popular Chicago teacher and owner of the Art of Food Catering.

Apropos to the occasion, mother/daughter team Ferol Golden and Lisa Golden will teach a class in contemporary southwestern cuisine. The Golden's, co-authors of the cookbook "Recipes...From Arizona with Love", will create favorite recipes from their home state, including corn and red bell pepper soup with Cilantro cream, red snapper Vera Cruz and apricot mousse.

Michel Tournier, chef/owner of Winnetka Patisserie and chef/instructor at the Culinary School of Kendall College, will show his pastry-making expertise with a "Delicious Desserts" class of passion fruit mousse cake and French chocolate fudge cake.

Master chef and caterer Roy Spears comes from Hunt, Texas, to share his theories on preparing elegant, delicious and healthy gourmet meals. Spears developed his "80/20" concept as director of Camp Waldemar, a conference center and summer camp in Hunt.

"By carefully preparing foods low in fat, salt and sodium 80 percent of the time, one can indulge in favorites the remaining 20 percent," Spears said.

The food fest program will also include seminars by ornamental horticulturist Nancy Clifton on "Gardening in the '80s"-raising new varieties of gourmet vegetables with new methods and improved gardening techniques; and by Ann Topham and Judy Borree, owners of Fantome Farm in Ridgeway, Wisc., explaining how they raise and milk their goats and make fresh chevre.

The "Grand Tasting & Bazaar" will offer a chance to sample and bring home gourmet edibles from local producers. Wisconsin products will include: cheese from Bresse Bleu and Delavan cheese; Croft's Crackers; mustard and pretzels from East Shore Products; wines from Kettle Moraine Vineyards and Stone Mill Winery; pasta from Puccio's Pastabilities; mushrooms from River Valley Ranch; Squire's Berry Best strawberry jam; Usinger's Famous Sausage; and Zeller's Frozen Mousse.

From Illinois, guests will taste Chips & Dips by Eula, popcorn and spices from the Home Gourmet, and coffee from the Coffee Gourmet. Staff from Cook's Cupboard will demonstrate and sell unique and practical kitchen gadgets.

For Food Fest reservations and information, call (414) 275-6811 in Wisconsin, or (312) 368-8515 in Illinois.

Old timers to play

Rams consider lights

Now that Wrigley Field will be having lights, why not Grayslake High School? The Rams may be playing football games at night this fall. Grayslake will be hosting a meeting of its lights committee to discuss the financing of the project at 7:30 p.m. on May 4.

Defense holds big key for Carmel's success

Carmel Coach Joe Pudlo has seen it happen before.

The Corsairs get off to a blazing start in non-conference games, only to fall flat on their collective faces when the East Suburban Catholic Conference baseball season starts.

So one might consider Pudlo and Co. to be mildly optimistic after the Corsairs' 10-2 start in the first dozen games. The rugged ESCC schedule begins April 23, when the Corsairs host St. Joseph in a doubleheader.

"We've got to play error-free baseball. We are still making too many errors," Pudlo said of the conference schedule.

Pudlo, though, is pleased with his best start since taking over at the Mundelein school four years ago.

Last week the Corsairs overcame defensive lapses to win non-conference games over Grant 6-5 and a doubleheader sweep of Waukegan West, 5-4 and 15-5.

Pudlo knows pitching will be a key in the ESCC games.

"Overall, I'm relatively pleased with our pitching but we have to get ahead of the hitters more," Pudlo said.

Against Grant, the weather was much of a factor as the two teams fought temperatures in the 30's and a cold wind in Mundelein. Grant struck first with a run in the second but Carmel scored one in the fourth and two more in the fifth for a 3-1 lead.

The Bulldogs seemed to lock up a win with a one-run sixth and a three-run seventh. Carmel rallied in the hosts half of the seventh to score the winning three runs.

"It was really cold and it was really sloppy. It's hard to stay loose. The ball was just mishandled," Pudlo said.

Grant had five errors and Carmel four for the game.

Eric Maloney pitched well as the starter, according to Pudlo but Dave Miller came on in relief to earn the victory.

Carmel took the single route in the 5-4 win over Waukegan West Saturday. The Corsairs scored one run five times. Ricky Splitt and his brother, Randy provided a one-two punch that accounted for five hits in eight at-bats. Chris Walsch was two-for-two with three Runs Batted In.

Carmel spotted West a 2-0 lead in the

CLC softball aiming for title

Sometimes all it takes is a little home cooking.

That appears to be the case for the College of Lake County softball team. The Lancers, after a spring break trip to Texas and another tournament at Lincoln Trails, returned to Grayslake last week and won three straight.

"We are definitely looking better than we were early in the year. We're doing well in conference and are peaking for sectionals," CLC softball Coach Sue Garcia said.

But before sectionals, which start April 29, the Lancers have a matter of a Skyway Conference title to contend for. Winners of five of six league games, CLC travels to Chicago to face Truman April 25 in a 2:30 p.m. Skyway Conference game. CLC's only loss in league play before this week was a 10-4 loss in the second game against McHenry on April 7.

Before competing at the Marquette Classic this weekend in Milwaukee.

The three-win week, which improved

Depth paying off for CLC tennis team

College of Lake County tennis Coach Lance Laverty said before the season started that his Lancers' top strength would be depth.

And so far, the Lancers have not let him down, notching two Skyway Conference dual meets in 4-3 decisions.

"I think we're winning because of our depth," Laverty said.

CLC opened the season with a 4-3 win over Elgin at its home court in Grayslake.

Elgin's Ratt Furtado beat CLC's Steve Quigley 10-1 in the best-of-10 pro-set format.

CLC's Tim Carson beat Scott Springfield 10-4 but Elgin's Mike Walker beat Jim Dressel 10-6 at number three singles.

Grayslake High product Randy Johnson won at fourth singles, beating John Hunt 10-4.

In doubles, Quigley and Carson beat Furtado and Walker 10-7 but Springfield and Mark Buch beat Dressel and Johnson 10-2. It was then up to the third doubles team, and CLC's Erick Smith and Jason Becker trounced Steve Cumming and Mike Salary 10-0.

Against Waubensee at Sugar Grove, the first two singles players both lost their matches. Quigley lost in a 7-4 tiebreak game and Carson lost to Pete Heaton 10-7.

Skyway Conference's tennis meet will be the next challenge for the Lancers on April 22. The Lancers will then prepare to compete in the upcoming post-season tournament.

first inning but came back with five in the second. After both teams scored two runs in the third, Carmel answered with a six spot in the fourth for a 13-5 lead. Carmel outhit its hosts 16-7 in the second game.

Pete Weber was the winning pitcher, going all the way and striking out five and walking three.

Of other ESCC teams, Pudlo said Marist and Joliet Catholic have both gotten off to good starts in non-league games.

Following the St. Joseph battle, the Corsairs play a home-and-away series with Notre Dame.

CLC to 11-21 overall, was highlighted by a no-hitter from pitcher Jill Tegtmeyer in an 11-1 win over Waubensee.

"She looked real good," Garcia said of her ace.

Tegtmeyer struck out the side in the fifth to end the game and had four innings with two strikeouts against the Chiefs.

CLC trailed early 1-0 as Waubensee scored its run in the second inning.

The Lancers tied the game in the second. With one out, Pam Wignot walked, stole second and later scored on a wild pitch.

The hosts then scored 10 runs in the final two innings to make it an early day as the game was ended by the 10-run rule. Deanna Brua and Debbie Hanson both drove in runs with hits and Brua later scored on a wild pitch for a 5-1 lead. Tegtmeyer grounded out, but a run scored for a five-run lead.

Mustangs hoping they will keep momentum going in NSC

Both Mundelein and Warren will have a clearer understanding of just where they stand in the North Suburban Conference scheme of things when the two teams clash in a doubleheader at Mundelein on April 23.

The first game will begin at 10:30 a.m.

The host Mustangs come into the big NSC week after splitting two games with Libertyville but winning five of six overall.

"It's a very important week. We have three conference games but we're playing some good ball and we have some momentum now," Mundelein Coach Fred Pickett said.

The Mustangs started the NSC portion of their schedule with a 4-3 win over the Lake Forest in the first of two.

Rob Procelius was Mr. Clutch for Mundelein.

Sequoits aim to surprise

Antioch's baseball Coach Rich Brown feels his non-conference game strategy was a success.

"We wanted to play a lot of people and get a designated lineup for the conference season," Brown said.

And an opening day split against North Suburban Conference traditional power Libertyville gives Brown's forces some good reason for optimism as the league season gets going into full earnest this week. Antioch, which split 10 games overall in addition to the Libertyville contests, is at Niles North in Skokie on April 23.

The host Vikings started the NSC season with two wins over Warren.

Junior pitcher Dan Grote allowed the Wildcats just five hits in the Sequoits' 3-2 win in game one. Grote fanned six and allowed no walks.

"He is the type of pitcher who has great control. He did a super job. He came close to getting the shutout," Brown said of Grote.

The win was Grote's second of the season.

David Wick started the Antioch offense off with a lead-off home run in the third inning. Scott Pasquini doubled and after a walk scored on a passed ball for a 2-0 lead. Shortstop Mike Yukena then homered for a 3-0 advantage.

The second game was all Libertyville. Brad Dodge scored a feat Brown hopes he will never witness a second time. Dodge had two grand slam homers in the second and third innings as Libertyville broke open a 1-1 game.

knocking in a two-out, two-run double in the seventh inning. Earlier, he clubbed a two-run homer in the third inning that accounted for Mundelein's other pair of runs.

"Rob has been getting clutch hits all season for us," Pickett said of Procelius.

Senior righthander Dave Smith went the distance to earn the win for the Mustangs. He struck out seven Scouts while walking only two.

Porcelius's offense continued in the second game, as he hit a fourth inning home run and had a double in four at bats. However, Lake Forest jumped on Mundelein pitching early, gaining a 7-1 lead after three innings.

"They got a big lead early and took control," Pickett said.

Mundelein tried to rally, scoring four runs in the last two innings.

Earlier, the Mustangs spotted Round Lake a 5-0 lead after one but answered that with a five run inning in their second in route to a 12-9 win.

Walking on any side helps fitness status

The Lake County Races will host the Lake Forest Hospital 3.5 mile Fitness Walk and 10 kilometer Race Walk on April 24.

There is an increasing interest in both fitness walking and racewalking. American Sports Data Institute identified 25 million Americans who participate in walking on a regular basis. Lake Forest Hospital is offering two walking events in order to accommodate first time walkers as well as seasoned veterans.

Graham Haas came on in relief and pitched four and two-thirds innings to claim the victory in the first outing.

"He did a nice job in his first appearance," Pickett said of Haas.

Mundelein took the lead for good in the fourth when it scored three runs.

Smith, Procileus and Jeff Wheeler all led the Mundelein attack, each garnering three Runs-relatively new phenomna to many, the sport has been in the Olympics since 1908. Today walkers of all ages are participating in the sport. While fitness walking allows the company of friends and spouses when exercising, racewalking provides one with a level of competition comparable to running.

Batted-In. Smith contributed a triple good for three RBIs. Jimi Casper, a sophomore designated hitter, had two hits and two RBIs. Mike Kranz and Haas both had two safeties.

A pre-race seminar sponsored by Allstate will be held on April 23 at Hyatt Deerfield at 3 p.m. Of special interest to walkers will be a free walking clinic conducted by Augie Hirt. Hirt was the top ranked USA long distance racwalker from 1974-1978. He set 10 American records of which he still holds in three of these events.

Registration is still available for the Fitness Walk and Race Walk at the pre-race seminar at Hyatt Deerfield, from 2 to 5 p.m. Fitness Walk fee is $10 and Race Walk fee is $16. Both include a t-shirt, the walking clinic and refreshments at the finish line. For more information, call (312) 831-9374. Proceeds help benefit the Special Olympics programs.

the season. A classmate of West, Katzenmaier had earlier a Run-Batted-In in the second with a sacrifice fly and another RBI single in the sixth.

The victory was Grayslake's first in four outings on the young season. The Rams lost the second game to Wheeling, though, 7-6.

"We're still a young team waiting for the pitching to come around," Grayslake Coach Jim Haas said after the Wheeling doubleheader.

The one-run loss to Wheeling in the second game marked the third such close game Grayslake has played. Earlier in the week, the Rams lost a close 7-6 non-conference decision to Antioch.

In the second Wheeling contest, the young pitching faltered. After Wheeling led 1-0 in the second, the Rams answered with two in the third. Wheeling came back with a three-spot in their half of the fourth.

Grayslake took a short-lived 6-4 lead but three runs by Wheeling in the hosts fifth gave the hosts the win.

Che Kearby, Shawn Mauritz and Pete LuPori all had two hits in Grayslake's attack.

The Rams started the NWSC portion of the season on the right foot by beating Marian Central 12-5 on Monday. The Rams parlayed 13 hits - all singles to notch the win.

Mauritz was the winning pitcher, striking out eight and walking six. Pete Lupori led the hitting attack with three hits and a RBI and Jim Neumann contributed three RBIs.

The next day was disasterous against Warren in Gurnee.

The host Blue Devils scored all of their runs in the first two innings, 15 in the first as Grayslake committed seven errors.

"We had seven fielding errors and about nine mental errors," Haas said.

The loss dropped Grayslake to 2-5 overall.

Rams softball squad looks to stay on top in NWSC race

Grayslake's softball squad will be looking for continued success in the Northwest Suburban Conference when the Rams host Marengo April 26.

The Rams won their first two NWSC games to tie for first place in the early going. Grayslake blasted Johnsbury 19-0 before beating Marian Central 7-3.

Alice Norton was the winning pitcher in both games, and had an earned run average of less than one going into this week's action.

"Norton has been using her changeup and is fooling other batters. She has medium speed on her fastball, but she keeps the hitters off balance," Grayslake Coach Elaine Frantz said.

Grayslake was 4-3 after splitting a doubleheader Saturday at Crystal Lake Central. Grayslake lost the first game 9-7 but won the second 6-5.

Junior Julie Paulsen was the winning pitcher in the second game against the Tigers.

Against Johnsbury, Grayslake made it a quick day by scoring 19 runs in five innings. Norton, who was also named athlete of the week at the high school, fanned six batters while walking one. Kristi Blasius was two-for-three with two Runs Batted In. Norton had two RBIs and scored four runs while Paulsen had a pair of RBIs. Laurie Stockman led the way, though, with five RBIs including a home run.

Against the Hurricanes, Grayslake took advantage of 11 Marian Central walks in the 7-3 win. Norton was the winner again, striking out six and walking two and allowing five hits. Grayslake's six-hit attack was spread out, as Gina Grote, Julie Tortorici, Laura Phillips and Stockman all contributed hits.

The season did not start out all that well for the Rams as Grayslake dropped games to Zion-Benton and Antioch.

Before playing Marian, the Rams did notch a 5-3 win over Warren. Paulsen was the winning pitcher.

Panther netters claim title

A senior-dominated Round Lake boys tennis team came away with top honors in the Warren

Twp. High School invitational tennis meet on Saturday. The Panthers had 76 points to win the round-robin tournament, beating out host Warren, who had 63.

Round Lake won the first two singles titles to account for 44 of its points.

John Arvling won at first singles and Jerry Chapman, who starred as a wrestler at Round Lake High, won at second singles.

The two doubles teams both finished second. Bob Stanley and Darryl Broome was second at number one doubles and Brian Maklkamaki and Jim Stockwell were second at number two.

The Panthers, with 10 seniors on the roster, are 4-2 in dual meet competition.

Round Lake Coach Pat Costello said that Johnsbury, Marian Central and Lake Zurich are all expected to be tough conference foes.

Concentration

College of Lake County pitcher Jill Tegtmeyer is all concentration as she fires another fastball at Waubonsee. Tegtmeyer no-hit Chiefs as CLC won Skyway Conference game 11-1. CLC won its first five of six Skyway Conference games so far this year.

State Campground Hosts sought

The Dept. of Conservation is seeking persons to serve as campground host interpreters, according to John Nichols, volunteer coordinator of the Dept. of Land Management.

Campground hosts, under a Dept. of Conservation program now in its eighth year, serve visitors to state park campgrounds. Their responsibilities include encouraging compliance with park rules and regulations, orienting the Dept. of Conservation visiting visitors and collecting entrance fees, distributing park literature and other DOC publications, handling emergencies to the site's benefit staff and performing minor maintenance tasks.

Campground host volunteers must be at least 21 years of age, possess a valid driver's license, agree to work for $1 per hour for a minimum of four weeks and be willing to learn the park's rules and regulations.

In return, they receive free camping privileges at their work site for the duration of their service, $1 per day, on-site training and limited medical and dental insurance coverage.

Host interpreters provide activities and programs for campground visitors.

The programs are aimed at fostering interest in, enjoyment, appreciation, protection and enhancement of the park's natural, historical and cultural resources.

Participation requirements for the campground host and interpreter programs are identical except for these additional interpreter qualifications: a knowledge of outdoor recreation skills or natural sciences and public speaking ability.

Designed to utilize the special skills of persons willing to share them with park visitors, the host interpreter program also can meet the internship requirements established by some colleges and universities for students majoring in recreation and/or park administration.

Host interpreter duties include leading nature hikes and demonstrating natural, cultural or historical specialty crafts.

For applications or additional information on either program, write Dept. of Conservation, Div. of Land Management, Campground Host Coordinator, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, IL 62701-1787, or phone (217) 782-6752.

CARING FOR EYE INJURIES
BY DR. CHRIS BOWMAN

Today's forum deals with eye injuries.

Eye injuries can be extremely painful because the nerve fibers which lead to the eye are very delicate and sensitive. A minor scratch or scrape can be acutely painful.

The first objective of first aid for an eye injury is to protect the eye from further damage, and decrease swelling. If you or someone you know has an eye injury, first cover the eye with sterile gauze to protect it. For children, secure their hands so that they cannot touch the eye. If the eye begins to swell, apply an icepack to reduce swelling. For any eye injury, follow up with your family doctor immediately.

Another common eye injury is the presence of a small foreign object. This kind of injury can usually be detected by tearing, blinking and discomfort, as well as a sensation of an object present in the eye.

To remove an object, place the person on his or her back. Clasp the upper eyelash between your thumb and index finger and fold the lid back over a cotton swab. Ask the person to look down and rinse the eye with plain lukewarm water for at least five minutes.

If the object cannot be washed out, call your family doctor immediately.

For minor injuries and complete family care, or for more information about how to care for eye injuries, please call or make an appointment with the Heritage Medical Center, 312/395-0085.

How to get most money for home

The Midwest homeseller who scrubs up his property before putting it on the market will clean up in more ways than one.

According to the ERA National Real Estate poll, 79 percent of real estate brokers in the central region of the U.S. say a general cleanup is the single most important short-term home improvement a homeseller can make to get the highest possible selling price.

Nationwide, 82 percent of the brokers agreed that a general cleanup is the most prudent short-term investment for a homeseller.

While the consensus clearly favors cleaning carpets, tidying up closets, touching up paint and making the home look and smell fresh, 34 percent of the brokers in the central region also recommend decorating and new wallpaper. About a fourth of the brokers here advise homesellers to replace or add carpeting, and 17 percent feel that yard work and landscaping improves the "curb appeal" of a home, thus achieving the optimum selling price. Responses total more than 100 percent because brokers could name more than one recommendation.

Brokers in the midwest are more likely than brokers in other regions of the country to recommend decorating improvements, such as painting and papering. Brokers in the west were somewhat more likely to recommend a general cleanup (89 percent).

One-third of the brokers specifically recommend against major improvements or home additions as a strategy for boosting the asking price.

When it comes to more costly improvements, about half the brokers nationwide (47 percent) say an expenditure of $1,000 on new carpeting will pay for itself if the house is sold within two years of the investment. One in 10 predict new carpeting can return more than 100 percent of the cost. Spending $1,000 on trees and shrubs has a similar impact, according to the survey.

Here's what brokers had to say about other home improvements:

- New garage ($10,000), 80 percent return
- Room addition ($20,000), 65 percent return
- Bathroom addition ($10,000), 60 percent return
- Add a fireplace ($5,000), 50 percent return

— Add a deck or patio ($5,000), 50 percent return

— Remodel the kitchen ($20,000), 50 percent return

Once the home is spic and span, how does a seller decide what price to ask?

Setting the price is one of the most difficult tasks confronting the homeseller. On the one hand, the desire of the seller is to get absolutely top dollar. On the other hand, it's imperative that the asking price be competitive, or the property is simply not going to sell.

According to the survey, brokers consider the following factors when recommending an asking price:

- Condition and appearance of the house.
- Needs of the seller, including how quickly the house must sell. Is a sale needed to finance the purchase of another home? Can the seller afford to hold out for an above-average price?
- Financial history of the house, including original price, assessed value at time of purchase, mortgage information and the value of the land, without improvements.
- Local market conditions, including demand, current mortgage interest rates, the average number of days homes are staying on the market, and long-term market trends.

Location on a busy street may reduce the price, while a magnificent view will increase it. Access to shopping, schools, churches and recreational facilities also has an impact.

Brokers strongly recommend that homesellers ask for a competitive market analysis summarizing the recent selling prices of homes nearby and in similar neighborhoods, and describing each of the properties.

Such a comparison helps determine the market value of a home and documents why the sales associate's recommendation may be higher or lower than the seller anticipated.

More than three-fourths of the brokers, nationally and in the central states, (76 percent) said they have refused to accept a listing at some time. The most common reason? Of those who said they had refused a listing, 91 percent said it was because the seller wanted to set the asking price too high. The runner-up reason for turning down a listing was that the condition of the property was unacceptable.

Miss Gurnee pageant adds features for contestants

There will be changes in the format for this year's Gurnee Days beauty pageant.

Contestants will be judged in swimsuit competition and one former feature, the talent competition, has been dropped. Bev Kaspar, president of the Gurnee Days Corp. which is organizing the Aug. 12 event, said the swimsuit competition was added to conform with the Miss Lake County contest held at the Lake County Fair.

Deadline for entering the Miss Gurnee contest is June 30. The contest will be held at 7 p.m. on Aug. 12 and Anne Best, a Warren student, will present the new Miss Gurnee with her crown. The contest is held as part of Gurnee Days events, Aug. 11-14.

More than $500 in cash, prizes, a trophy and a crown awaits the winner. Young women between the ages of 15-20 who live within the Gurnee village boundaries may obtain queen contest applications. Entry forms are available at Warren Twp. High School, Gurnee Park Dist. or by writing the Gurnee Days Corp., P.O. box 111, Gurnee, 60031, Kaspar said.

The contest will be held at Warren High's new auditorium.

The winner will be entered in Miss Lake County contest and will reign over all Gurnee Days activities, including the parade on Aug. 14.

First and second runners-up will be chosen. They will receive prizes and ride in the parade.

Avon Twp. taxes going down

Norman Geary, Avon Twp. Supervisor, announced that the township tax rate will be reduced on this year's tax bills for all township residents.

The 1987 rates were 15 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for the general town funds and 7.5 cents per $100 for the general assistance fund. This year's tax rate will be 13.8 cents for the general town fund, and 6.8 cents per $100 for the assessed valuation for the general assistance fund or a total reduction of 1.9 cents per $100 of assessed value on all real property.

Geary state this year's bills will be in the mail in early May with the penalty dates of June 9 and Sept. 8 for the two installments on property tax bills.

Legislature honors Moore

The Illinois House of Representatives, at the urging of a delegation of Lake County office holders, has passed a resolution honoring John Moore. Moore, former publisher of the North Chicago Tribune, died on April 4.

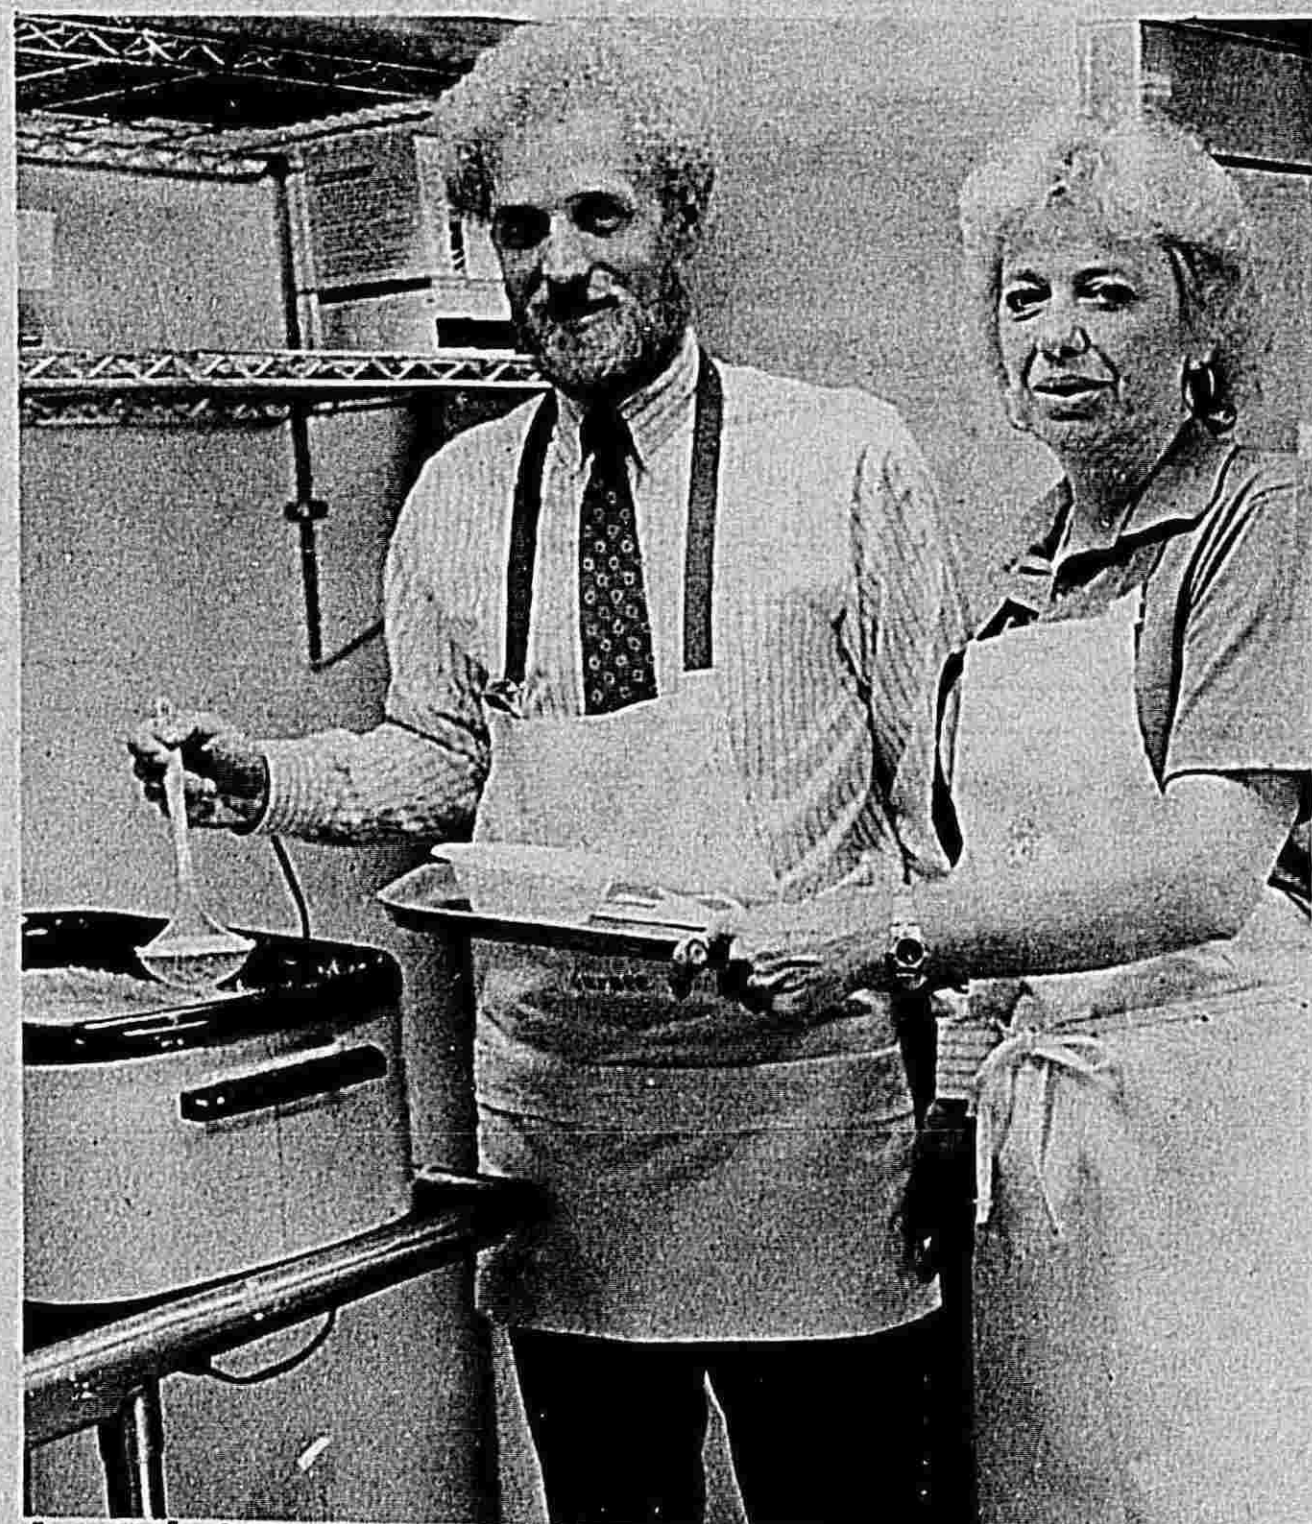

Reps. John Matijevich, Virginia Fiester Fredrick, Grace May Stern, William Peterson and Dick Klemm all sponsored the resolution passed on April 12.

"As a publisher, Moore received many professional awards including an outstanding publisher award and he was loved and respected in the community for his fairness in reporting and his leadership in upholding community concerns," the resolution states.

In addition to his role as publisher, Moore was clerk at Shields Twp. for 27 years.

A copy of the preamble of the resolution is to be presented to Alice Moore, Moore's wife.

corps, floats, and marching units of various organizations will step off from Dearborn St. and Wacker Dr., proceeding southbound on Dearborn to VanBuren Sts. before disbanding.

Floats will emphasize the 70th anniversary of Poland's independence of 1918.

On the evening of May 7, a banquet will be held at the House of the White Eagle, 6839 Milwaukee Ave., Niles, beginning at 6 p.m.

Concluding the manifestation will be mass on Sunday, May 8 at Holy Trinity Church, 1118 N. Noble St. at 10:30 a.m.

The celebrant of the mass will be Very Rev. Henry Jankowski, pastor of St. Bridget Parish in Gdansk, Poland, and advisor to Lech Walesa of the Polish Solidarity Union.

For further information contact Helen Szymanowicz at (312) 286-0500.

The parade will be televised from noon to 1 p.m. on Sunday, May 8, on WLS-TV, Channel 7.

Bears aim for NWSC victories

This year's Northwest Suburban Conference baseball season is beginning to take shape, according to Lake Zurich Coach Kent Stocking.

"We lost all our starters from last year. We're kind of starting over again," he said.

But the Bears are not alone in their predicament. Grant, which won the NWSC last year and Round Lake, which won the title two years ago, are also rebuilding.

Opposing coaches pick Lake Zurich as a contender largely based on the fact that the sophomores were undefeated last year.

Lake Zurich's youth showed in the early going as the Bears fell to Carmel 15-5, Mundelein 5-3 and lost to Johnsburg 11-3 in the first league game.

The Bears, though, beat Round Lake 4-2 and Buffalo Grove to come close to .500 at 2-3.

Eric Anderson, a junior, was the winning pitcher against Round Lake. He allowed just three hits while striking out 13 batters. Fellow junior Scott Krezeminski was the winner in the Buffalo Grove win.

Troy Ong, a senior, started the season as Lake Zurich's top pitcher. Mark Baillie also returned from last year's team, which was 10-4 in the NWSC race, good enough for second place behind Grant.

The Bears were trying to find just the right combinations in the non-conference portion of the schedule. "We are still experimenting," Stocking said last week.

Seniors Tony Hardy and Eric Hamlin will anchor the outfield.

The Bears will be facing some important NWSC games in the coming weeks. They travel to Grayslake on April 25 and host Wauconda on April 27. Both games start at 4:30 p.m.

After non-conference games against Jacobs on April 28 and Stevenson April 29, Lake Zurich heads into the home stretch of the NWSC loop season with an away game at Marian Central May 2.

National Merit Scholar lists corporate sponsored awards

Nearly 1,400 corporate-sponsored merit scholars have been named in the first of three major announcements by National Merit Scholarship Corp. these academically talented high school seniors are among more than 6,000 young men and women who will win merit scholarships this year.

The recipients of corporate-sponsored Merit Scholarships have qualifications of particular interest to their award sponsors, and they were chosen by NMSC on the basis of their outstanding scholastic achievements and extracurricular accomplishments. While the majority are children of employees or members of organizations supporting the merit scholarships, some winners live in communities served by a sponsor or company or have career interests a sponsor wishes to encourage. More than 400 U.S. corporations, company foundations, and other business organizations annually sponsor awards through the merit program, and corporate sponsors are committing more than $16 million for scholarships being offered in 1988.

Most of the Merit Scholarships covered in this announcement are renewable for four college undergraduate years and provide annual stipends ranging between $500 and $8,000; some are nonrenewable awards that provide a single payment of $2,000.

More than one million juniors in more than 19,000 U.S. high schools entered this year's merit program by taking a screening test, the 1986 PSAT-NWSQT. Some 15,000 of these participants qualified as semifinalists and were identified in Sept., 1987 as they began their junior year. The top scorers in every state are designated semifinalists in numbers that approximate one-half of one percent of each state's graduating seniors; this method of naming semifinalists ensures that the talent pool is representative of able students in all parts of the nation.

Semifinalists had to advance to finalist standing in order to be considered for Merit Scholarships.

Beer stays, cans go at Brae Loch Club

Golfers patronizing Brae Loch Golf Course in Grayslake will soon notice a difference in the way their beverage purchases are served.

Commissioners of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. voted unanimously April 15 to purchase a Banner Draft Beer & Soda System for $8,533 from Pinnacle, Inc. of Palatine.

The new system will dispense beverages in paper cups, which is expected to aid in cutting down the litter of aluminum cans on the course, a golf course staff member said.

He said the new dispensing system will arrive within a month. It is similar to a beverage system in use at Countryside, the only other district golf course.

Forest Preserve Dist. board members also voted to support state legislation restoring federal funding levels to the Land and Water Conservation Fund.

The fund was established 24 years ago to provide money for the acquisition and recreation development of forest preserve land. The funding, provided through off-shore oil revenue leases, amounts to about $2.7 billion for the entire nation. Of that amount, about $900 million is available for use by states, but Congress rarely appropriates the full amount to forest preserve districts.

Old Tires, Standing Water breed Tiger mosquitoes

Health agencies are taking steps to control the spread of the Asian tiger mosquito in Illinois, which may transmit diseases to humans.

The Asian tiger mosquito (Aedes triseriatus) arrived in the United States in 1955 through shipments of used tires. It spread to three locations in Illinois—Chicago and one each in Jefferson and St. Clair counties—also by port in scrap tires. All three locations have taken steps to reduce the population of the mosquitoes.

The State Pollution Control Board has issued an emergency rule designed to provide guidelines for the storage and transport of scrap tires, which are the primary means of spreading the mosquito.

Illinois Dept. of Public Health Director Bernard J. Turnock said lab tests have shown the Asian tiger mosquito is capable of transmitting certain diseases to humans, although no illness has been linked to it in the United States. Several other mosquitoes native to Illinois also can carry diseases, but people can greatly reduce the risk of mosquito-borne illness by following simple precautions.

"While we do not yet know whether the Asian tiger mosquito will infect anyone in Illinois this summer, we do know that it is aggressive biter," Dr.

Turnock said. "Now is the time, before most mosquitoes in Illinois have hatched, to begin taking precautions against potential mosquito bites and the risk of a mosquito-borne disease."

Eliminating mosquito breeding sites is the single most effective method of prevention. People also can:

Properly store or discard all items that can collect water, such as tire casings, buckets, wading pools, etc.

Drill holes in old tires used for swings or other play equipment to allow water to drain.

Drain bird baths, wading pools, rain barrels and other water containers weekly.

Use repellent when mosquitoes are in evidence.

Keep screens on windows and doors tight-fitting and in good repair.

Work together in the community to clean up vacant lots and other areas where mosquitoes may breed, especially where old tires are located. Private lots with tire piles can be reported to local public health departments, which may enforce nuisance statutes, to have them cleared.

The department will soon begin its annual surveillance of mosquito-borne infection. It will update local health departments throughout the season with new information.

Learn about gardening at the Fremont Library

New Fremont Area Public Library patrons who have just joined the community and the library may be interested in some useful corners of the library shelves. The library has just received a 1988 edition of Colliers Encyclopedia which has found it rightful place among the other recent reference encyclopedias such as, Academic American, Americana, and Britannica. Ask at the reference desk for this location. Also the new American Camping Assn's "Parents Guide to Accredited Camps" is in, just in case the young people at your house are looking forward to camping during all or part of the summer vacation at a children's camp.

For those who haven't discovered them yet, the Small Business Shelf and the Consumer Shelf may answer some questions. The entrepreneur might find the Service Corps of Retired Executives of great help. This organization, SCORE is its acronym has many leaflets that lead to good free counseling or inexpensive workshops. SCORE is based in Chicago, so the counseling is pertinent to your entrepreneurial needs. The Consumers shelf has current new and used auto buying information, prescription drug updates, and "The Best Buys and Discount Prices" for many consumer items, "Rating the Diets", and "Tufts U, Diet and Nutrition Newsletter, which if read regularly (once per month) can keep you on the track of wise eating

Why Liberty Lakes wants to join with Lake Villa

Liberty Lakes would like to annex to the village of Lake Villa, but that is only one possibility for the 24-square mile area with 10,000 residents.

This month the committee to incorporate the area is appealing two previous denials of its case to the U.S. Supreme Court. Last month the committee approached Lake Villa about annexation.

"We're not putting all of our eggs in one basket," said Jo Garrett, a member of the committee seeking to incorporate Liberty Lakes. "We want an option."

Lake Villa is eyed as an ideal partner because of its low tax rate, good government and controlled growth, Garrett said. "If we can't have our own government we would like to become part of Lake Villa rather than being picked off one by one," she said of potential annexation efforts by other communities. "If we can't have our own government and control our own destiny, then Lake Villa is the best answer."

Garrett said Liberty Lakes has never sought annexation to any village other than Lake Villa. Right now she is sitting by the telephone, as are other members of the committee, waiting for a call from Lake Villa Mayor Joyce Frayer.

Lake Villa is waiting until its new attorney, John Mullin, to get into the job before inviting the Liberty Lakes people back for a second meeting.

Initial response to annexation has been mixed in Lake Villa. It would increase the village from a community of 2,000 to more than 10,000 persons. Providing sewer and water service from the village's already taxed facilities is also seen as a major obstacle. There also will be a need to provide police and fire protection to the expanded area. Street maintenance in the summer and snow plowing in the winter would be needed.

Village officials are evaluating these concerns and will address them to the Liberty Lakes representatives when the two parties meet. Meanwhile, the Liberty Lakes committee interested in incorporation will survey areas like

Venetian Village, West Miltmore and those living in the unincorporated areas of the township to determine their feelings about annexation to Lake Villa. The survey is expected to continue while discussions with the village are underway.

Gurnee trustees reject waiver on curbs, gutter

Developments continue to be the major topic of attention for the Gurnee Village Board and developers were four-for-five, losing on a request for a waiver.

Aiming to set standards for curb and gutter installment, the Gurnee Village Board has denied a request for a waiver by a developer.

"We have to be consistent with what we're doing," Gurnee Trustee Dan Zelenko said.

The board members, while approving the preliminary plat for Us Again subdivision, stuck with the Gurnee Plan Commission's recommendation in requiring curb and gutters.

Us Again, developed by Sharon and William Demski, will consist of 14 single family lots and four duplexes.

Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton said the problem of granting a waiver was once not as complicated a matter.

"It used to be simple when to grant a waiver and when not to," he said.

Trustee James Yost and other board members discussed the possibility of establishing a fund for new developers for such public improvements.

Zelenko said the public should not be asked to pay for such items as curb and gutter for new developments.

In another action regarding development, trustees approved a preliminary plat for the Westgate Townhomes unit developed by Roger Gatewood.

Gatewood said the development, off Dilley's Rd. will contain 200 units with each having 3,995 square feet. Prices will range from $85,000 to $100,000 for the four types of units.

"We're getting an interesting mix of people," Gatewood said.

Landscaping will be done along Dilley's Rd.

The Gurnee Plan Commission had given its approval to the development.

The final plat for the Pines Unit two subdivision was approved.

Vitomir Vuckovich's request for rezoning his property from R-2 to R-3 won approval.

Kensington Court Unit I's letter of credit was reduced to $164,200 because of public improvements.

In other action, trustees awarded a bid for streetlight maintenance to Aldridge Electric of Libertyville for $4.24 per pole each month.

-a proclamation naming April 22 as Girl Scout Leader's Day in Gurnee was passed.

-a plaque was presented to John Nosch for his eight years of service to the Gurnee Plan Commission and Gurnee Zoning board of Appeals. Nosch resigned from the planning board because he is moving to Wauconda.

Police calls are growing by month

by JAMES N. MANTZOROS

Lake Zurich Police Chief James P. Glogovsky said "there was an excess of 524 calls answered in March, as opposed to 398 calls for the same period in February.

Traffic accidents fell from 42 to 37 last month and the number of traffic citations went to 193 from 82. Warning citations issued during the month dropped from 98 to 80. Parking and other tickets increased to 194 from last month's 161. Arrests dropped to 6 from 14 last month, and speeding tickets rose to 74 from last month's 43.

Last month's major incidents included the investigation of a number of burglaries in the eastern section of the village and the arrest of a subject for criminal damage to property in Zurich Park.

The department has two new squad cars. Plans are being made to have the police boat on the lake by Memorial Day weekend. Boat inspections should be completed by June 15, according to Chief Glogovsky.

Roused residents face fears

A united front of Round Lake Heights residents, at the Village Board meeting Wednesday night, protested the layoff of half of their police force in actions taken by the board at a special meeting April 4.

The board ratified action Wednesday that they had taken at that special meeting. They found it necessary to reduce police ranks because the village can no longer meet the police payroll.

Residents at the meeting expressed the fear that crime will rise in Round Lake Heights when it is learned that the village is unpatrolled.

 its present location after closure of the drum storage area. At this time the IEPA is also requesting that the facility provide information concerning any prior release of hazardous waste constituents from any solid waste management facility on the site.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments on the plan or request modifications of the plan or provide information on the release, at any time, of hazardous waste constituents from the facility, within 30 days of the first publication date of this notice. Written comments must be addressed to the IEPA, Government & Community Affairs, Attn: Public Notice Clerk, 2200 Churchill
 Road, P.O. Box 19276, Springfield, Illinois 62794-9276.

The site must be closed in accordance with the standards set forth in the Environmental Protection Act, Ill. Rev. Stat., Ch. 111 1/2, Pars. 1001 et seq., and regulations adopted thereunder.

The proposed closure plan, closure performance requirements, and other documents are available for inspection and may be copied at a cost of 25 cents per page at the IEPA's Springfield headquarters. These documents are also available for inspection and copying from the DLPC Field Manager at the Maywood Regional Office, 1701 First Avenue, Maywood, Illinois 60153, 312/345-9780.

In response to requests or at the discretion of the IEPA, a public hearing may be held to clarify one or more issues concerning the closure plan.
 Public notice will be issued 30 days before any public hearing.

"INSURANCE RISK CLASS" CAN COST YOU MONEY!

By Conrad Meier

MEIER INSURANCE SERVICES

You should know...about your INSURANCE RISK CLASSIFICATION.

David H. owns a local cable TV installation company. He got a big shock when the bill for workers' compensation was recently reviewed by us. Instead of the $1.80/$100 rate he should be paying, he was being charged $3/$100!

The reason?

The business had been classified with companies that string cable lines between telephone poles, obviously an added danger when working around all that high tension wire stuff.

BUT, that is NOT what his company does. All his company installation work is underground!

A small error worth thousands of dollars in overpaid premiums.

There are some 400 workers' compensation classes, with rates ranging from 48 cents per $100 benefit for clerical businesses to more than $60 per $100 benefit for bridge construction workers.

General Liability classifications are even more numerous—almost 800 of them, with errors in assigned liability classes even more common.

It is important to also review the SIC classification assigned to your group major medical plan.

The SIC determines the industry base rate for your premium calculation. Here too, there are hundreds of "fine line" differences that, if not correct, can adversely impact your cost as employer and the premium charged for dependents. We thought you should know.

Mr. Smith is No. 2 man in county law

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Willie R. Smith doesn't sound like the name of a cop, police detective or, even, a deputy sheriff. But it is or has been all of these and then some. And a darn good one, too.

Today Willie Smith is second in command of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. His boss is Clinton "Clint" Grinnell, who became sheriff with the death last month of Robert "Mickey" Babcox.

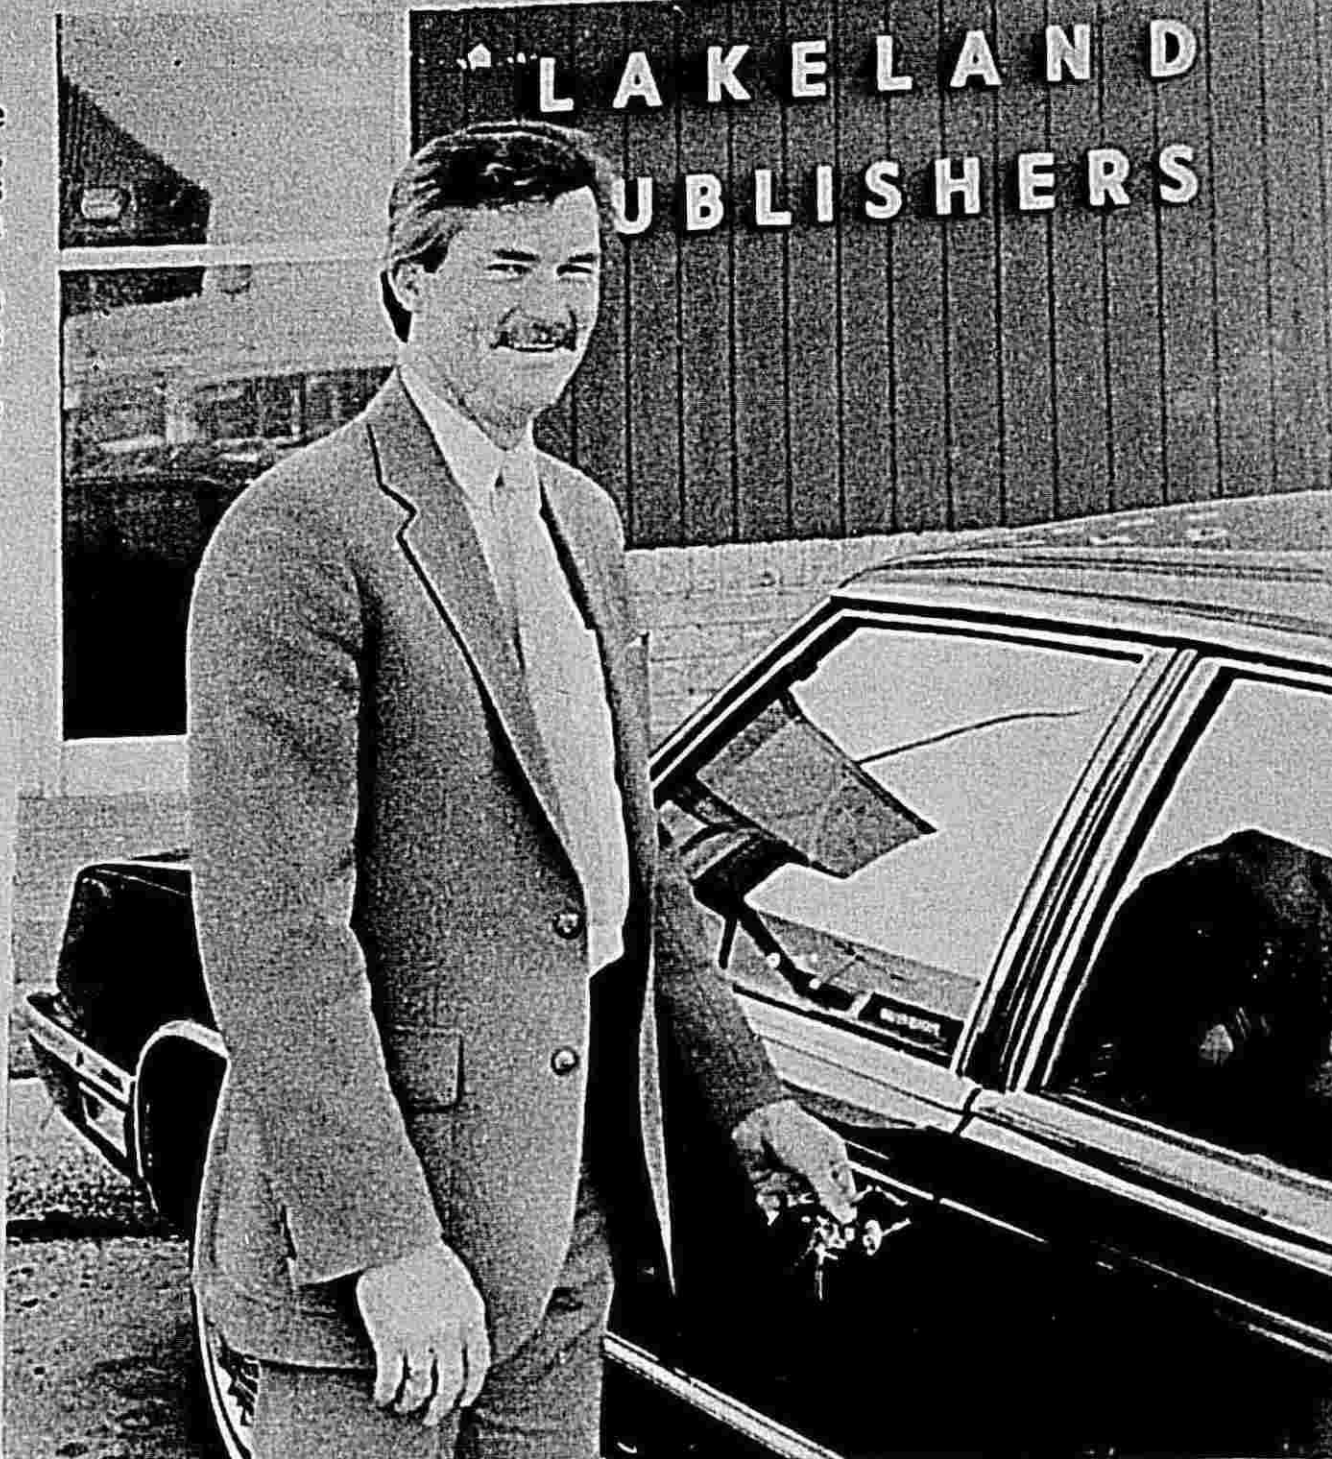

This is a long way from serving as a volunteer part-time dispatcher at the Round Lake Police Dept. while attending Round Lake High School. That's the way he planned it, sort of.

"I worked at it. I came up the ladder from the bottom up," he said about going through the ranks of the department from deputy sheriff to lieutenant and, now, chief deputy.

Today he lives in a new home on the north shore of Highland Lake with his two sons, Willie R. Smith Jr. and Jerry. Afternoons, evenings and weekends he is a father. The rest of the weeks he is responsible for keeping a 300-plus member department running smoothly.

Chief Smith didn't know back in 1964 where he was headed in life. So he enlisted in the U.S. Army. Back home after three years serving during the Viet Nam War, he went to Waukegan where Harold Sheskie was sheriff and signed up for a job. He was put to work as a jailer. Ten years later he was promoted to corporal after working in the highway patrol, investigation and narcotics divisions. Promotions came faster. Three years later Smith was a sergeant, the next year a deputy chief of the investigation division, two years later he was promoted to lieutenant of the division, became chief of department operations in 1987 and, in March of this year, chief deputy.

That puts him where the action is. If it involves the Sheriff's Dept., Smith has something to do with it. Whether it is the men on patrol, those involved in an investigation or anyone else in the department, they know Smith and he knows them. "I'm detail minded, just like my boss," Smith said. "I just get involved. I'm very aggressive."

Smith also admits to doing what he calls "creating activity" wherever he goes. That's why he loves the investigative end of police work. He likes to recall some of his bigger cases.

Probably the biggest involved Larry Idler. That was a homosexual case involving 21 deaths starting in 1981. Because of an evidence problem in Indiana, the only conviction was for a Chicago murder three months following his release from custody.

Another big one was the unexplained 1978 death of a Waukegan man. One day eight years later a woman called from Roswell, N.M., with a lead that the wife and her boyfriend had hired an ex-policeman to do the killing. Smith closed that file with a little footwork and lots of persistence.

In more recent months investigative work with which he was involved helped close several nude locations; one south of Halfday on 21 and Sherri's on Rte. 45 south of Mundelein.

Within the past two months Smith was involved operation Snowball which 48 small-time drug dealers were arrested in Antioch, Round Lake and Wildwood.

"I have my work at heart," Smith said. "I love this job and, like my boss, our goal is to make this the best, most professional department around. I think we have a great department. But both the sheriff and myself want to do our best to make it even better."

Their joint goals are to make deputies more professional by giving them increased opportunities to attend schools and obtain increased training. Like Grinnell, Smith, too, is an operations man. Both have been involved in the day-to-day planning of new jail now being completed, the new shooting range that will be part of it and everything else associated with the new building to be called the Babcox Justice Center as a salute to the late sheriff.

Smith is as relaxed and as smooth talking as a man of his profession can be. Nothing much bothers him, not even when someone mistakes him for a black. That happened awhile back when he was transferred from the criminal investigative division to narcotics. "Someone from another department called the sheriff and said, 'I'm glad to see you got a black in the division. It will help you make more buys'."

"That confusion has arisen time and again," Smith said. "I don't mind it. The name served my father, Willie, for many years. It has done the same for me these 41 years. And now it is the name of one of my sons. I'm sure the confusion will arise again. That doesn't mean I'm going to change it."

Call him what you will, Smith likes the name cop, policeman, sheriff or anything associated with law enforcement. "That's because I don't know how to be anything other than a policeman," he said.

Commuter train struck by car

One car of a Milwaukee Rd. commuter train was left hanging over the edge of the railroad embankment almost into Long Lake on April 20 while the other cars continued to Chicago after being struck by a car shortly after 2 p.m.

According to witnesses, a car going southbound on Wilson

Road at a high rate of speed attempted to beat the train to the crossing. Realizing this would not be possible, the driver swerved and struck the first passenger coach near the middle door, forcing it off the tracks and down the embankment.

Lake County Sheriff's deputies responded. The

Fox Lake Rescue Squad took the only occupant of the car, Timothy Knutson, 17, of Lake Villa, to Condell Memorial Hospital in Libertyville for treatment. Charges are pending.

Witnesses told the sheriff's deputies the car was going an estimated 50 to 65 miles per hour in a 30 mile per hour zone.

The 10 to 15 passengers on the train that originated in Fox Lake at 1:55 p.m. transferred to the cars that remained on the tracks and the train continued to Chicago.

The crossing is midway between Rte. 134 and Rollins Rd.

Band fares well at music fest

The Dist. 46-47 Concert Band from Grayslake Junior High and Avon Center School participated in the World of Music Festival in Nashville on April 8-10.

In the classification of concert bands, which included two junior highs and 15 high schools, the District Concert Band came home with a rating of "excellent" and ranked fourth in competition points. The District Concert Band received 86 out of a possible score of 100.

The five judges rated on the Olympic style of scoring. Participating bands came from Maryland, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Florida and Texas.

Buy 'Jewels of Stars'

A special collection of "Jewels to the Stars" rings, bracelets, pendants and earrings will be on sale at the Pear Tree Gift Shop of Good Shepherd Hospital from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday, April 25, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Tuesday, April 26.

"Jewels to the Stars" specializes in blue-white Cubic Zirconia (CZ) stones which, due to a Russian processing method, are internally flawless and guaranteed not to cloud. These stones have fooled jewelers who examined them on several national television programs and found the only visible difference was the price of the "gems."

The jewelry can be used for everyday wear and travel; the more elaborate pieces have appeared on 35 major television shows. "Emeralds," "rubies," "sapphires," and custom CZ orders are available.

Fifteen percent of the jewelry sales will benefit the Pear Tree Gift Shop and the Auxiliary of Good Shepherd Hospital. Good Shepherd is located north of Barrington on Rte. 2, two miles west of Rte. 59.

2 pizza parlors get conditional licenses

The Fox Lake Village Board approved conditional business licenses for two new pizza parlors, Rosati's and Domino's, on Monday, April 18. Both new operators must submit copies of their certification from the Lake County Health Department within 30 days to remain open.

Rosati's Pizza is located at 56 N. Rte. 12, which used to be 1st National Pizza. The operators are Mehdi A. Mohammed, both of Chicago. The building is owned by Raymond J. Bourbon of Fox Lake.

Domino's Pizza is at 1 S. Rte. 12. The corporation owners are Todd W. and Craig B. Surta West Chicago.

Lake Villa meeting

Regular meetings of the Lake Villa village board are held second and fourth Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m. in the village hall, 65 Cedar Ave. Committee meetings are scheduled as needed on alternate Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. Mayor Joyce Frayer encourages all interested persons to attend.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Stay on your tip toes.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Things were looking bleak socially for a while, but that should brighten beginning next month. Be on the lookout for enticing, lucrative financial deals.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Personality plays important role in big business deal soon. Family members are expecting a lot of you. Be patient; things calm down quickly.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Watch for other Gemini persons to enter your social circle. Tricky associates may want you to take a fall, but safeguard against this. Be prepared.

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) Your mate is being kind and supportive now, so bask in this glory. Enjoy romance. Your business world is running smoothly. Take a vacation now.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) Short trips are the best cure for boredom, so grab some friends and do it! Blowing off pent up steam will refresh you for upcoming business headaches.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Watch for successful people to take you under their wing and cultivate your talents. Take this flattering education with the grace of a true professional.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Someone from your past may play a major role in your next project; this will work to your advantage. Look for ways to spruce up your love life.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Enjoy the limited time you get to spend with your family, no matter what it is you are all doing. Keep an eye on your finances. Be cautious.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Get that attitude in shape! Stop being short and curt with the ones you love. Enjoy the nice spring weather with a short trip somewhere special.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Rapid advancement is coming your way concerning finances, work, and romance. Don't get too excited, however; you have to work to keep afloat.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Watch your tongue with friends. Keep your back to the wall when in the office; someone there is rather malicious. Indulge in some frivolous spending.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Trusted and true advisers are the ones to turn to now. Turbulence is all about you, but your strong sense of family security can help you hold ground.

If you were born this week, you have a knack for handling the most minute of details, and they're often the ones others overlook. You can be a real help when this skill is needed, but other times people may think you're just a nitpicking pain in the neck. People will request you to display your artistic talents whether it be via your voice, an instrument, dance, or some other art form. Seize these opportunities. ©1988, McNaught Synd.
